Roosevelt Hits Critics, Gives Cartel Outline

Declares Opponents of Knox, Stimson Appointments Moved By Partisan Motives; Says Trade Plan Is Economic Defense.

(By International News Service)

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—President Roosevelt today charged that those who criticize his appointment of Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox to the war and navy posts in the cabinet are inspired by purely partisan motives at a time the nation is facing a most difficult situation.

At the same time, in a press conference shortly after his arrival at his Hyde Park home, the president issued a statement outlining the purposes of his proposed pan-American trade cartel, which would be aimed at offsetting Nazi and Fascist commercial influence in Central and South America.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that this proposed pool of export surpluses "is not intended to replace the program of reciprocal trade agreements which has been steadfastly pursued by the government of the United States."

Rather, he said, it "is being undertaken in response to new—but, we hope, temporary—developments in international relations."

The cartel, he said, will be "a part of a program of economic defense designed to supplement our military defense program."

Elaborating on his brief formal statement, the chief executive said it was unfortunate there were some people crooked enough to charge that the whole Argentine beef surplus would be dumped on United States markets in competition with domestic beef.

The inter-American trading corporation, he said, will be set up solely for the marketing of surpluses outside the western hemisphere.

Questioning at the press conference turned the inferences of various Republican leaders that his appointment of two Republicans to the cabinet indicated he would not run for a third term, and that he was setting up a "war cabinet and a war party."

Mr. Roosevelt said he had seen all kinds of things charged since the Stimson-Knox appointments were announced. If he commented on one specifically, he would have to comment on all, he said.

The best answer, the president continued, came to him last night after he had gone to bed and

Bombs Rip Communist, Nazi Offices

At least ten persons were injured, five of whom required hospitalization, when a bomb exploded at the offices of the Antrage Ruckwanderung Devisenfragen, a German foreign exchange agency, and 40 minutes later another was set off at the offices of the Communist party and the party's newspaper, the Daily Worker, in New York. This picture shows the scene of the bombing at the German offices, which are located directly below the German consulate in the heart of New York's financial district. Detectives and fire officials are shown investigating.

Demands Use of French Resources In War on Britain

Feuhrer and Chief Party Leaders Stage Dignified Pageant In Meeting With Envoys of France; Says Basis Of European Peace Sought.

BULLETIN

BERLIN—(AP)—Negotiations between the French and German plenipotentiaries over an armistice still were going on at 7:50 o'clock tonight (12:50 p. m., EST), DNB, the official German news agency, announced.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(INS Staff Correspondent)

IN THE COMPIEGNE WOODS OF FRANCE — In the same historic railway coach where France and England dictated terms of peace to defeated imperial Germany in 1918, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler today handed his armistice conditions to delegates of the French government.

The fuehrer's greatest masterpiece of symbolism was enacted at 3:30 p. m. (9:30 a. m. E.S.T.) when with his most trusted Nazi aides by his side he received the emissaries of stricken France and personally informed them of the terms under which Nazi Germany would consent to make peace in continental Europe.

By Hitler's side were Col. General Walther von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the German army, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, General Wilhelm Keitel, Nazi chief of staff, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Rudolph Hess, deputy leader of the Nazi party.

Also present was Admiral-General Eric Raeder, commander of the German fleet.

The French delegation sent into this bomb-pocked forest to hear the terms of peace consisted of General Charles L. C. Huntzinger, Air Force General Jean Marie Joseph Bergert, Vice-Admiral Maurice Athanase Le Luc and Leon Noel, former French ambassador to Poland.

Official German spokesmen who described the armistice meeting to correspondents stated that it was in sharp contrast to the first session in the same railway coach that brought an end to the World war 22 years ago.

Hitler and his Nazi aides were "dignified," it was said, and evinced none of the "sadistic bitterness" with which the

Sets Up City Budget Calling for $333,863

Finance Committee's Tentative Draft Asks $27,000 More Than Amounts Appropriated for '40 Operations.

A tentative city budget for 1941 seeking $333,863 for general operating purposes had been drafted today by City council's finance committee.

The draft which asks approximately $40,000 more than was asked last year, and approximately $27,000 more than was appropriated for 1940 will go to council for approval at its July 2 meeting.

In addition to the general fund total, the budget includes $86,840 for retirement and interest charges on general bonds, $10,150 anticipated needs for firemen's pensions and $12,300 for police pensions, boosting the total figure to $441,853. The pension money, however, comes from special tax levies.

Anticipating the submission of a one-mill levy to the voters at the November election to raise $50,000 annually for improvements in the fire, police and parks departments, the committee at one whack last night sliced $40,000 from requests submitted by those departments to bring them in line with this year's appropriations.

No major increases were shown in the 1941 budget, as tentatively set up, with estimated needs for next year providing for no addition in manpower in the service and safety departments.

The committee, anticipating an

PROBE BLASTS IN NEW YORK

German and Communist Office Buildings Bombed In 45 Minutes.

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Federal, state and city authorities joined today in a thorough investigation of the bombings of a German and a Communist office hoping to discourage any wave of war incidents in this city of almost 2,500,000 foreign-born population.

Police questioned more than 30 persons without finding a clue to the bombers, but agents of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey and of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were making secret inquiries and did not announce the results.

The bombs exploded within a 45-minute interval yesterday evening. One exploded at 4:10 p. m. on the 18th floor of a 27-story office building, outside the office of the Deutscher Handels Und Wirtschaftsdient — translated on the firm's business cards as the international commercial agency and professing to be an independent commercial firm which transmits food packages to people in Germany. It is directly below the German consulate. That blast injured nine persons, one seriously.

The other bomb exploded on a sidewalk step leading into a building housing the national headquarters of the Communist party, the New York state headquarters of the party, the Young Communist League, the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper, and the Workers book shop. It injured one woman bystander.

Neither bomb caused much damage but both caused considerable smoke and panic.

INDIANS BUY CATCHER

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians today purchased Catcher Jim Hegan from Wilkes-Barre club of the Eastern league. In return, the tribe will send Catcher Henry Helf, now in a hospital for treatment of a minor intestinal ailment, and some cash to its Pennsylvania affiliate.

CHILD KILLED, TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Four-Year-Old Galion Boy Fatally Hurt When Auto Strikes Him.

AUTO HITS TRAIN HERE

Driver, Companion Hurt When Car Crashes Into Train at Mulberry Crossing.

A four-year-old Galion boy was killed and two Mansfield youths injured, one seriously, in traffic accidents within the past 24 hours.

Killed was Melvin Steffee, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Steffee, Galion, who was struck by an automobile while crossing Galion's Main street yesterday evening.

Injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into the side of a moving freight train at the North Mulberry street crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at 2 a. m. today were Paul Schlegel, 18, of 40 Prescott street, and Willard Stevens, 19, of 77 Ashland road.

Schlegel is confined in the General hospital with a possible skull fracture, lacerations and abrasions.

2 MORE WEEKS

Bike Law In Effect With No Licenses; Extension Ordered.

Mansfield's bicycle license ordinance became effective today but there were no tags on hand and bike owners will have at least another two weeks before they will be required to purchase them.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton said this morning that he had ordered 1,000 license plates in anticipation of council's approval at its July meeting of a $100 appropriation to cover the expense.

The tags will be issued by the police department after inspection of the wheels to see that they conform with safety provisions of the new law. They will cost bicycle owners 25 cents.

The city council passed the ordinance at its May meeting but failed to provide funds for purchase of licenses.

VIC'S STAND

Donahey Says Appointments Roosevelt's Duty.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—Sen. Vic Donahey of Ohio commented as follows today on President Roosevelt's appointment to his cabinet of Col. Frank Knox and Henry L. Stimson:

"It's the president's duty to make appointments. He has made them. Their wisdom will be ascertained in due time."

GET 400 PLANES

Germans Claim Capture of Big Air Armada.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Berlin radio reported today that the German army had captured 400 planes which had "just arrived from the United States," and 2,000 motors "complete with plans for mounting." The report, picked up by CBS, quoted DNB, the official German news agency, but did not give the place of capture.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Delegates to the Ohio Pharmaceutal association convention yesterday selected Cedar Point as the site of their 1941 gathering and elected L. Melvin Reed of Dayton as president.

AROUSED: Republicans Attack Knox and Stimson Appointment

BULLETIN

PHILADELPHIA—(UP)—Rumors of a merger between forces of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and U. S. District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York to halt the presidential boom of Wendell Willkie circulated among Republican leaders today.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO—(UP)—Col. Frank Knox announced today that he had accepted nomination as secretary of the navy because "the president has said that I can help him."

(By Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA—Republicans assembling for their 1940 national convention veered sharply toward strong anti-war platform declarations today after a tumultuous national committee meeting in which they read Henry L. Stimson and Col. Frank Knox out of the party.

They denounced Herbert Hoover's secretary of state and Alf M. Landon's 1936 running mate as "interventionists" for accepting the posts of war and navy in President Roosevelt's cabinet and said the course the president was following indicated he wanted to lead the country into war.

Meanwhile, the report was widely circulated that Mr. Roosevelt would not run for a third term. It was hinted at in Landon's statement in which he spoke highly of the ability and patriotism of Stimson and Knox but said he hoped they had not been misled by such third term assurances as might have been given them.

As members of the resolutions sub-committees settled down to drafting a platform—expected to be brief and to follow the general pattern of the Glenn Frank report—the impression was spreading that the anti-war, non-intervention declaration would be sharp and direct. The foreign affairs subcommittee, headed by Landon, will start work today.

Landon said he wanted to delay the work to gain more time and allow the world situation to steady a little before the party declared itself.

SUMMER? HUH!

Calendar Says It's Here But Mercury Stays in 50's.

Summer arrived officially at 8:37 a. m. today, but it got a chilly reception in Mansfield with the temperature at 53 early this morning.

Throughout the state, in fact, the most eagerly-awaited season in the year was met with a cold shoulder. At Cincinnati the mercury hit an all-time low for the month of June, when it dropped to 49 degrees early this morning. The previous low was 52 in 1920. In Cleveland the temperature was 50 at 7 a. m. today and was cold enough to bring out a few topcoats.

Yesterday's sun failed to arouse more than a 67-degree reception for the approach of summer, and during the night the temperature dropped to 53. It was 64 at noon today.

Slowly rising temperatures are promised for tomorrow, with possible showers Sunday.

Richland Farmers Facing Heaviest Losses In Years

Richland county farmers are faced with the heaviest crop losses in recent years as a result of the almost continuous rainfall of the past month, farm authorities said today.

A number of farmers have been unable to cultivate corn planted in May, and unless the topsoil dries out soon they will be forced to abandon the corn or re-plant the fields with a quicker maturing crop, County Agent George B. Ganyard asserted.

Wheat and hay also have been hard hit by the heavy rainfall which has caused rust on wheat and flattened uncut hay in the fields the county agent pointed out.

Farmers in sections where the wheat is heavy may also have difficulty harvesting the grain where it has lodged as the result of frequent battering by the rain, Ganyard added. Harvesting is expected to get under way in the county in about 10 days if the weather is favorable.

In well-drained fields corn looks promising because farmers have been able to cultivate it and the moisture has caused it to grow rapidly, it was said.

In other cases, farmers were forced to give up their plans to plant corn acreage because they could not get their land ready in time.

$9,700 In, Red Cross Finds Last $2,300 Tough to Raise

The Richland County chapter of Red Cross is finding "the last three thousand the hardest" to raise. It is still $2,300 short of its doubled quota of $12,000.

After the drive for the first quota of $6,000 was completed, it was decided to depend upon voluntary contributions to raise the next $6,000. To date a total of $9,700 has been raised in Mansfield, Shelby and the county.

The American Red Cross is attempting to raise $20,000,000, which, in comparison with the needs of the war torn countries, may seem only "a drop in the bucket," but other nations of the world who are not at war are also raising funds to feed and clothe and provide medical care for European war refugees.

The Richland County chapter has been informed that an organization under the name of the German Relief Fund, Inc., is raising funds throughout the United States, stating that they will be turned over to the American Red Cross. This is not true, Red Cross officials say.

The American Red Cross, they said, offered its facilities for mercy to Germany several months ago and was told that no outside help was needed at that time and that if such a need should arise, the Red Cross would be notified. To date no appeal has been made, officials say.

Contributions to the Red Cross may be made directly to the chapter office in the Bowers building or by calling Canal 1494.

HESITANT: Italy Says U. S. Doesn't Want to Enter Fight

(By Associated Press)

ROME—The United States, "stirred by war gestures of many of their men and newspapers," do not "seem ready to let themselves be drawn into a European war which does not concern them," Virginio Gayda, Fascist editor frequently regarded as Premier Mussolini's mouthpiece, wrote today.

He declared in Il Giornale D'Italia that Washington's "invoking the Monroe doctrine in notes to European capitals," is "proof of hesitation toward adventure in North America."

Gayda then repeated his previous assertion that American intervention in Europe would establish a precedent for possible European intervention in American interests.

Italy carried on her war with Britain and France with her air arm while awaiting France's reply to the armistice terms of the Axis powers.

It was kept secret whether Italian negotiations with France were being conducted separately or jointly with Germany.

Gayda, however, wrote that "decisions agreed on by Hitler and Mussolini" had been "communicated to the French plenipotentiaries."

The Italian high command, meantime, declared that Italian air attacks on the French base at Bizerte, Tenus, and the British naval base on the island of Malta were "severe and effective."

SPEARHEADS: Nazis Continue Battle March on French Lines

BULLETIN

AT THE FRENCH-SWISS FRONTIER—(AP)—France's reorganized army of the Jura and the Alps, reinforced by many units which had retreated from the Maginot line, today was reported not only to have held German motorized units south and east of Lyon but to have driven back advanced Nazi columns northwest of Grenoble with heavy losses.

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN — Germany's military machine shoved steel spearheads deeper into France "on schedule" today as representatives of Germany, Italy and France turned to the shell-torn forest of Compiegne—scene of Germany's capitulation in 1918—for armistice talks.

Reports of additional booty came from the Germans as they mopped up sections of the Maginot line and took new places in Normandy, Brittany and the region between the Loire estuary and the Rhone valley.

The newspaper Der Angriff said two 35,000 ton French battleships, the Clemenceau and Richelieu, were seized at Brest, where they are being built.

The high command reported these successes:

Capture of 700 brand new tanks at Nevoy, near Glen; the sinking by submarines of four British merchant ships, one of them a Royal Mail steamer of 11,000 tons; and the sinking by fighting and dive-bombing air units of a 10,000-ton transport and a 4,000-ton auxiliary warship in the Girone estuary.

The capture of Lyon, French city which fell to the Germans yesterday, was noted in today's communique which said fast German troops were pushing through Burgundy.

The French were reported "stoutly resisting" in the Maginot line in Lorraine and Alsace while encircled groups in the western Vosges mountains are continuing their fight against the Nazis.

The Germans, reporting continued British air raids last night, said 16 persons were killed in British bombings of Cologne last night and Wednesday night and on Dusseldorf on Wednesday night.

DAYTIME CAMP PLANNED AGAIN BY GIRL SCOUTS

Outdoor Activities To Be Started July 9 on South Diamond Site.

Mansfield Girl Scouts will have their second daytime camp this summer with the old Fresh Air camp on South Diamond street extension serving as a camp site.

It will open Thursday, July 9 and will operate on Tuesdays and Thursdays through July 25, from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

The out-door scouting program will be the foundation for the camp activities. Girls will be divided into units according to ages, and the program of each unit will be based on the interests of the girls in that group.

The program will include nature lore, arts and crafts, hiking, outdoor cooking, games, singing, folk dancing, dramatics and pioneering. A staff of instructors will be under the direction of Miss Eleanor Bond, director of the Mansfield Girl Scout Council.

Girls will be permitted to wear shorts or camp suits. They will bring their lunches with them in the morning and the council will provide milk.

Registrations for the camp are being taken at Girl Scout headquarters, 702 Farmers Bank building. The camp committee is made up of Mrs. J. C. Gorman chairman; Mrs. Louis Lamoreaux, Mrs Stanley Richardson and Mrs Carl Gibson.

BUTTONS SAVED.

SAN JOSE, Cal. —(U P)— Alfred Frank was disgusted because when his shirts came back from the laundry the buttons always seemed to be missing. So he decided to wash them himself. He put the shirts in a pan of water, placed it on a stove and went out to shop. When he returned, he had buttons but no shirts The fire department saved the house.

. . but everybody knows happy meals help make happy marriages. And stories about a bride's biscuits aren't funny . . . to HER! Remember, bread is always the foundation food. Even the best meats, salads and vegetables taste flat and uninteresting, unless the bread is of the same high quality. Yes, good bread is a secret of delightful meals. So, don't buy bread indifferently, my dear. Never overlook the importance of serving a fine bread, such as Better Baked BUTTER-NUT. It's been my favorite for years. All our friends prefer it. And I'm positive you will, too — especially when you see how BUTTER-NUT Bread stays oven-fresh until the last delicious slice disappears behind HIS great, big smile!"

Writer Credits Louis as 'Greatest Comeback Performer'

NEW YORK — (INS) — Assuming that Joe Louis is always levelling, and doesn't carry an opponent one time to help put over the fight motion pictures or to bring about a rematch later, he can be credited with being the greatest comeback performer the ring has seen. And we will add, too, that when properly steamed up and really eager to fight, he must be among the best heavyweights that ever laced on a glove. As far as we are concerned he proved those two points last night in scoring an eight-round technical knockout over Arturo Godoy, of South America.

* * *

Godoy carried Louis 15 rounds before and made a monkey out of the champion in many respects, leading to the conclusion that Louis sometimes isn't at his best, either because he is too phlegmatic to get worked up over an opponent who seemingly hasn't a chance or because it is good business for him to take it easy.

But, in trying to repeat an encore against the Brown Bomber, Godoy found last night that the heavyweight champion is too fast, too clever, too game and too potent with his punches to accept a second helping of humiliation.

The finish of the one-sided encounter, waged before 27,876 customers who paid out $119,505, came in 1:24 of the eighth round and left Godoy as a bleeding, helpless and over-powered hulk who was so persistent in his determination to carry on further that after being waved aside as unfit for further punishment that the police leaped into the Yankee stadium ring to restrain him in his attempts to continue the battle. It might have been an act. At any rate the fight ended then and there.

It was, all told and as a matter of fact, an unmasking of Louis as a gay deceiver. He had stalked through most of his training in such fashion as to delude some of the experts into believing that he wouldn't be ready to improve on his previous fight with Godoy last February.

But actually Louis was as good as he has ever been—as good as he was the night he knocked out Max Schmeling in less than a round in revenge for the knockout he previously had suffered against the German.

The punches he landed on Godoy in the first round were as good as any he let loose against Schmeling, and from then on he poured leather at the weak-hitting Chilean in round after round until finally the finish came.

It wasn't much of a fight, what with Godoy's constant crowding to smother the champion's punches, but it was interesting enough in the light of the fact that Godoy had gone the distance before and until last night had never been knocked off his feet in 67 battles.

He got it good this time, being floored in the seventh by a two-handed barrage and twice more in the eighth before Referee Billy Cavanaugh wisely stopped it.

Godoy's left eye had been ripped wide open in the first round to make it one of the bloodiest fights Louis has ever had, and Godoy failed to maintain the crouch that let him go the limit before, with the result that his face looked like a ripe tomato which had been severely punched by the time the end arrived.

* * *

In this, his 11th defense of the title, Louis was good, possibly terrific, even in eluding Godoy's attempts to get in one good clout after each bell in one of the most flagrant rule violations ever tried in a major fight. However, the customers got what they paid to see, viz and to wit:

Louis proved again that because a fighter fares well against him one time it doesn't mean that he can repeat and when really oiled up to go he is devastating. At 199 pounds against Godoy's 201½, he was trained to utter perfection. Actually Godoy never had a chance.

Trips Braves

Fremont Comes From Behind In 9 to 6 Victory; Seigbert Paces Club.

By CHARLES MARTIN

WHATEVER hopes the Mansfield Braves had of climbing closer to the leaders in the Ohio State league race were blasted under the floodlights at the Fairground last night when Fremont came from hind to hand them a 9 to 6 beating before a "Tappan Stove" gathering of 300 shivering enthusiasts.

While the Braves were losing, Findlay, the pace-setter, was dividing a twin bill with the Pandas at Lima to retain its one game lead over Lima and a five-and-a-half game advantage over Mansfield. The Oilers beat Lima, 8 to 7, in the first tilt, but lost the second by a 7 to 1 count.

* * *

Mansfield piled up a 5 to 4 advantage in the seventh inning, but the Green Sox were not to be denied and came back in the eighth to find George Laurila for three runs to take a lead they held to the finish.

* * *

Laurila, lanky righthander, who worked two and a third innings against Fremont Wednesday night, was Manager Dewey Stover's selection to start against the Green Sox.

He gave up a run in the first, another in the third and two in the sixth before the three-run splurge in the eighth.

BEALS

Mansfield meanwhile, was having trouble solving "Stew" Heis' tantalizing slants and only pushed over one run until the sixth. The Braves teed off for two runs and added two in the next stanza to take a temporary lead.

Pilot Stover and his warriors travel to Tiffin tonight and return to the Fairground for a single contest at 8:15 p. m. Saturday. Mansfield plays at Fremont Sunday Eatilo Angaran is expected to handle the mound duties tonight, with Bob Arnold taking over at the Fair park Saturday.

Fremont, last night, secured 13 hits off Laurila and his successor, Alex Radoumis, who took over in the ninth.

* * *

Ten of the bingles came while Laurila was working and five of them were doubles. Harry Seigbert, Mansfield first baseman, paced his club's 12-hit attack with three singles. George Missler was the only Brave to collect an extra-base hit—a double in the eighth chapter.

* * *

Mansfield's defeat had one bright side. It was the sensational fielding of Howard Beals, shortstop. He pulled several nifty plays from deep short and had four putouts and six assists to his credit.

Mansfield threatened in the last of the ninth when Beals and Gene Woodlin singled, but Dick Morse and Eldon Dice fanned to retire the side.

Mansfield Braves officials announced today that they had signed Herb Woodten, outfielder. Woodten was a star of the Lima club last year, hitting at a .389 clip. Officials also stated that Dice, rookie outfielder, has been suspended because of a leg injury.

Three Clubs Share Lead In Golf Loop

Furnitures, J. A. C. and Central Fruit Share First Place In Torrid Class 'B' Race.

THE WAY the foursomes are fighting it out in The News-Journal Class B golf league championship race it may take some time before any team can pile up a comfortable advantage.

Three clubs are sharing the lead today following the weekly matches at Possum Run yesterday and two other outfits are only two points behind the pace-makers.

CLUBS TANGLE SUNDAY

The Ringside Nite club softball team will clash with the Barnes Challengers in a single game at Blue Goose field at 2 p. m. Sunday, it was announced by Manager Freddie Willis today. Henry Deschner will pitch for the Nite club outfit.

At present the Junior Association of Commerce, Tucker Furniture and Central Fruit foursomes hold the lead, while the Tinkey Lumber company and City News shotmakers are holding fourth place.

* * *

The Central golfers walloped the Tinkey Lumber team, 4 to 1, and the J. A. C. edged the Furnitures, 3 to 2, to throw the race into a free-for-all affair.

* * *

In the other contests, the Bissman company topped the City News, 3 to 2, and The News-Journal and Elks Lodge battled to a 2-all tie. The third point between the Journal and Elks, on team total, will be played off next week. Both finished with 185 totals.

Maurice Byrnes, News-Journal lead-off man, Merle Spurgeon of the Bissman team, and Hal Ackley of the City News shared individual honors with 41's.

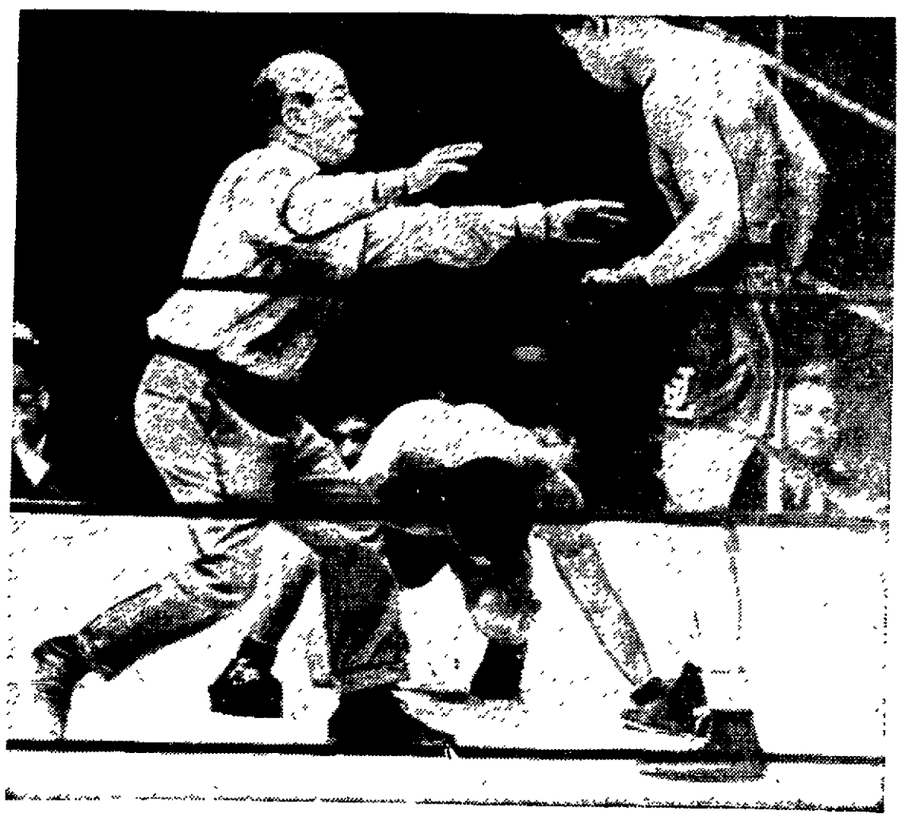
Louis' Share—40 per cent of the net gate.

Godoy's Share—17½ per cent of the net gate.

Henrich's Single Beats Wreckers

Louis Beats Arturo Godoy By Technical K. O.



Joe Louis, Detroit's Brown Bomber, retained his world's heavyweight championship when he registered a technical knockout of Arturo Godoy of Chile at 1:24 of the eighth round of Louis' 11th defense of his title in Yankee stadium, New York City. This dramatic photo was snapped as Referee Billy Cavanagh stepped in to stop the fight after the challenger had hit the canvas for the second time in the final round and the third time in the fight. The champion is being pushed back to a corner by Cavanagh as Godoy struggles to rise.

Champion Must Keep Hot Pace In Meet

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Three strokes behind first-place Frank H. Pelton of Cleveland, Raleigh W. Lee of Columbus today needed to repeat his sizzling second-round performance of a year ago to retain his Ohio seniors' golfing championship.

* * *

Pelton, honorary president of the Ohio Golf association which sponsors the annual tourney for divot diggers over 50 years of age, toured Scioto country club in 79, seven over par, while Lee put together 40-42 for 82 at the half-way mark.

* * *

In 1939, Lee's opening round 80 put him behind the leaders, but he came back with a scorching 75 to take the title. Pelton is in the 55 to 59 years of age bracket, while Lee shoots in the 65-69 year division.

Paired in second place, one stroke off the Pelton pace were Don Hamilton of Columbus, former Notre Dame quarterback, and C. J. Gilman of Washington Courthouse. F. S. Crooks of Columbus shot the only 81, while Clarence G. Robinson of Marietta tied Lee's 82 and Joseph M. Wells of East Liverpool stayed in the running with 83.

G. T. McIlyar of Marietta, 76, and the oldest of the 115 entrants, covered the windy layout in 103.

Other first round scores included:

Washington Courthouse—P. J. Burke 93; O. D. Farquhar 98; Frank S. Jackson 97; Webb Ellis 86; G. H. Doodmansee 91; Walter Jones 94; L. C. Coffman 89; Wert Shoop 104.

Marion—Charles Isaly 104; E. J. Schoenlaub 114; R. T. Lewis 100. Canton—V. V. Frey 90, Ralph N. Howell 89; W. W. Kinginger 85. Chillicothe—W. H. Kettra 85; J. R. Gunning 98. Lima—Dr. E. C. Yingling 90.

Moon Billiards Top Bellville Club, 7-4

Scoring three runs in the first of the sixth, the Moon Billiards defeated Bellville, 7 to 4, in a baseball contest at Bellville yesterday. It was a see-saw affair until the seventh with Bellville taking a 2 to 1 lead in the first and the Billiards going it in front, 4 to 2, in the third. The Billiards play the Columbus Superiors in a single game at Tillman's park at 3 p. m. Sunday.

Scores Balbaugh as Wemcos Win, 7-6, to Take Lead In Softball League.

ED HENRICH cracked out a sharp single in the last of the ninth to send Frank Balbaugh home from second base and give the Wemcos a 7-6 triumph over the Mansfield Wreckers at Blue Goose field last night and enabled the winners to take undisputed possession of first place in the Y. M. C. A. Independent softball league.

While the Wreckers were losing, the Alta Lumber company combine jumped into a share of the runner-up position with a one-sided, 17 to 1, triumph over the Tavernettes at North Lake park.

* * *

In the other game reported, the All State Freights stopped the Safety Cabs, 9 to 7, at Davey field. The Tinkey Lumber-Wesco game was not reported.

* * *

The Wreckers, with Bob LaPine hurling fine ball, went into the last of the ninth with the score tied at 6-all. But LaPine walked Balbaugh and the next man sacrificed him to second and Balbaugh came in when Henrich hit to center field. It was the Wreckers first loss in league competition.

* * *

Manager Nick Wagner's Wreckers spotted the unbeaten Wemco outfit to a run lead in the first, but roared back with a five-run uprising in the second to take the advantage.

* * *

The Wemcos scored four times in the fifth to knott the score and went ahead 6 to 5 with a run in the seventh. Al. Stickler Wrecker's shortstop, was the hitting star of the game with a home run, double and single Henrich and Geiger, who handled the Wemcos' hurling duties, paced the winners with a double and single.

Al Milnar Will Face Red Sox In First Tilt

Cleveland Southpaw Will Be After His 10th Win; Feller Beats Nats, 12-1.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Standing at the top of the loop, the Cleveland Indians warmly welcomed the arrival of the Boston Red Sox today by sending one of their ace pitchers against the club which kept the Tribe out of first place except for a short time at the season's start.

Al Milnar, out for his tenth scalp, was Cleveland's mound selection for the task of widening the lead over the second-place Sox. He drew an awesome opponent—Jack Wilson, the speedballer who defeated Bob Feller in his last Boston appearance.

The Indians scrambled into first place on Feller's 12 to 1 triumph over Washington yesterday as the Red Sox dropped a double header to St. Louis and Philadelphia snapped Detroit's winning streak.

* * *

Rapid Robert allowed the Nats only four hits—one of them a home run by Gerald Walker—as he turned in his tenth victory, the Tribe's fifth in a row.

* * *

Ray Mack tripled with the bases loaded to polish off a four-run assault upon Walter Masterson in the first inning. Rollie Hemsley tripled as he led off in the third and scored the fifth run on Hal Trosky's grounder.

The Indians uncorked a seven-run attack in the sixth frame. The blows included doubles by Mack, Trosky and Feller, the latter's two-bagger driving in two men.

Feller struck out 11 men, nine of them in the first five innings, as he became the first major league hurler to win 10 games.

He'll Do

Cleveland officials are high in their praise of Russ Peters, bespectacled utility infielder who has managed to stick with the club despite the fact he must oust Ken Keltner, star third baseman, for a regular job. During Keltner's recent injury, Peters played great ball as well as leading the team in hitting. He came from Atlanta, and once played with the Philadelphia A's.

Redlegs Hope They Can Hit When Needed

Drop to Second Place By Losing 4-3 Verdict To Phillies.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Back in second place for the very acceptable reason that the Philadelphia Phillies have disinherited them, the Cincinnati Reds take on the New York Giants today and only hope that somebody on the team will develop the knack of hitting when it counts.

* * *

Paul Derringer is the pitcher who must hold the Giants to no more than two runs, judging by the Cincinnati output of the past few days, if he is to hang up his seventh straight victory and tenth of the year. Harry Gumbert is the opposition.

* * *

The lack of that which wins ball games was demonstrated convincingly in Philadelphia yesterday, when the Phillies took it in 12 innings, 4 to 3, mainly on old Chuck Klein's hitting.

Three runs in 12 innings is enough to win a game once in a while but it's better to have five or six or a dozen Kirby Higbe kept the Reds' eight hits far enough apart to be meaningless.

Ernie Lombardi hit his sixth homer of the year and added a double, and Bill Werber, Morrie Arnovich and Bill Hershberger also hit doubles. But it all came to naught.

Meanwhile Klein knocked in all the Phils' runs with a homer and two singles. In the 12th he came through with his second single to send the winning run in.

Gene Thompson and Joe Beggs were the victims of the team that handed the Reds 19 games last year. Joe was blamed for the loss.

Browns Cause Mix-Up In American League

Run Winning Streak to Six Straight By Blasting Red Sox In Doubleheader.

By JUDSON BAILEY, Associated Press Sports Writer.

BASEBALL'S biggest sensation right now is the St. Louis Browns—and you know why.

They have just succeeded in casting the already confused first division of the American league into chaos.

Eventually 1940 may be remembered as the year the mighty New York Yankees folded up like a hinge, but the plight of the world champions and the jostling of their would-be successors is overshadowed today by the achievements of the Brownies.

Today the Browns are in fifth place just a game and a half behind the Yanks. They got there yesterday by blasting the Boston Red Sox in both ends of a doubleheader 2-1 and 11-4 to run their current winning streak to six.

* * *

The Browns now have won 27 games and lost 30 while last year they didn't get their 27th victory until Aug. 4 by which time they had lost 68.

* * *

Given the opening, the Cleveland Indians rode right into the league lead. Bob Feller gave the Washington Senators only four hits, struck out 11 and walked but one in winning 12-1.

The Detroit Tigers were defeated 6-4 by the Philadelphia Athletics as Al Brancato singled with the bases loaded and homered. Hank Greenberg got three hits, including his 12th home run.

The Yankees were shut out 1-0 for the second straight day by the Chicago White Sox, whose John Rigney held them to five hits in 11 innings. It was New York's fifth straight setback.

The National league lead also changed hands as the plodding Phillies mobilized behind Kirby Higbe and Chuch Klein to beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 in 12 innings. This was enough to pull the champions below the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

* * *

The New York Giants routed Lefty Larry French and beat the Chicago Cubs 6-3 although out hit.

* * *

The Pittsburgh Pirates also were out hit but managed to beat the Boston Bees 8-7.

Heroes and Goats

(By International News Service)

THE HEROES—Bob Feller, whose four-hitter over Senators, pitched Indians into first place in the American; Chuck Klein, who drove in all Phillies' runs to bat Reds out of first place in the National.

THE GOATS — Monty Pearson, Yanks, who dropped 1-0 decision to White Sox, Denny Galehouse who pitched a game-winning home run ball in the ninth to let the Browns win.

OKLAHOMA TEAM SENDS PITCHER BACK TO HENS

FORT WORTH, Tex. —(AP)— Boyd (Jelly) Sorelle has been returned to Toledo of the American association by the Oklahoma City Indians, to whom he had been optioned.

Jimmy Humphries, business manager of the Texas League club, said the right-handed pitcher had been unable to obtain full strength after an influenza attack.

LUCAS SEEKS GAMES

Mansfield Horse Captures Feature Race at Canton

CANTON —(AP)— Winning straight heats, Basil Hanover, chestnut horse owned by E. S. Nail of Mansfield, captured the $500 purse 18 class trot and the trophy awarded by race sponsor, Charles M. Ball of Canton, in the Ohio short ship circuit's second program here.

* * *

Driven by Harry Short, veteran Columbus reinsman, Basil Hanover finished in times of 2:12½, 2:11½ and 2:11¼.

* * *

Fearless Peter, bay colt owned by Dr. I. M Gullinger of Andover, won the first two heats of the $500 22 class pace in 2:10 and 2:08½, but finished sixth in the third. Karl Recor drove the three-year-old.

* * *

Counter Direct, roan gelding, claimed the winner's share of the $300 handicap pace, taking the first heat in 2:09 but finishing fifth in the second. Fred Hamer, brown gelding, cut the time to 2:08¼ in the second heat.

* * *

In the $300 24-20 handicap pace, Ellis Dean, roan gelding, ran second to Dora Hanover, bay mare, in the first but won the second to capture the event.

THEATERS

Portrays La Russell.

Blond Alice Faye essays to portray the glamorous Lillian Russell, most famous of all American beauties and the toast of the world's capitals back in the Gay Nineties. Portraying the many husbands and heart interests of the actress are Don Ameche, Henry Fonda, Warren William, Edward Arnold and with Leo Carrillo playing Tony Pastor who started La Russell on the road to fame. The picture opens Saturday at the Ohio for four days.

Island Romance.

The much publicized romance of Dorothy Lamour and Robert Preston got its start in "Typhoon," which will be the headliner at the Madison for four days, starting tomorrow. Similar to "Hurricane," it is a South Sea Island story climaxed by a tremendous storm. Instead of native characters, Miss Lamour is an American castaway, as are Preston and Lynne Overman.

* * *

A New Galahad.

Sir Galahad with a six-gun is a new type of Western hero portrayed by Russell Hayden in the film version of Zane Grey's "Knights of The Range." He works to aid a headstrong heroine who is determined to marry a gambler and killer. Victor Jory is the gambler and Jean Parker the girl. Sharing honors on the Ritz bill is "The Farmer's Daughter" with Martha Raye and Charlie Ruggles.

* * *

Songs and Bullets.

Both the hero and the bullets sing in "Texas Stagecoach," which is on the Majestic screen today and tomorrow. Charles Starrett is the hero who pleasantly intermingles love making with straight shooting. Sons of Pioneers provide the musical background and Iris Meredith provides romance. Wayne Morris, Rosemary Lane, Humphrey Bogart and Dennis Morgan are seen in a mystery thriller, "Return of Dr. X."

* * *

"Sunset Trail."

Carrying $30,000 in cash around in a handbag wouldn't win a man much sympathy today if he were robbed of the whole roll but in the days of "Sunset Trail," it was not out of the ordinary. Robbery of a stagecoach provides the theme of action in this Western at the Park. William Boyd is starred. Martha Raye and Bob Hope are seen in the second version of "Never Say Die," well known stage play.

Harrington will talk on "Aeronautics." The program will also include several reels of motion pictures on the present war in Europe, to be shown by the Bissman company.

Pictures will include "Germany Takes Austria," "Invasion of Poland," "Finland Fights," "Bombs Over Europe," and "Scuttling of the Graf Spea." Meetings are held every two months for residents of the Lucas community. Herman Berry is chairman of Tuesday's meeting.

Anniversary and Homecoming To Be Held at Ontario

The 20th anniversary and annual homecoming of the Ontario Community church will be celebrated Sunday with special services.

Dr. Charles B. Ketcham, president of Mt. Union college, will be guest speaker during the 11 a. m. worship service, and Rev. Howard W. Peterson, superintendent of the Mansfield district of Methodist church, will preach during the afternoon service at 2. The afternoon service will be followed by the fourth quarterly conference of the congregation.

The church was formed 23 years ago by the union of the Presbyterian, United Presbyterian and Methodist congregations, and now includes members of at least 17 different denominations.

A picnic dinner will be served at the church at noon. Rev. E. H. Thompson is pastor.

FILE PETITIONS ON 2 STREETS

City council had before it today a request from property owners on two streets seeking improvements for their properties.

A petition filed with Council Clerk William J. Beer jr., by residents on Walter avenue between Sturges avenue and Wood street asked council to grade and pave the roadway. Submitted by property owners on Overlook avenue, another petition seeks the construction of water lines and sanitary sewer on that thoroughfare.

ORDERS DITCH CONSTRUCTION

Richland county commissioners yesterday ordered construction of the Broadview park ditch in Madison township northwest of Mansfield at a cost of $693.

The project was approved following a hearing at the courthouse at which property owners in the Broadview park area consented to meet the assessments for the work.

The project will include 460 feet of open ditch and 666 feet of tiled ditch.

900 FEEDING CATTLE
We received Thursday morning at our yards:
1 Car of Choice Black Angus Yearling Steers
1 Car of Choice Black Angus Heifers
1 Car of Choice Hereford Heifer Calves weighing 375 Lbs.
1 Car of Real Light Whiteface Steer Calves.
1 Car of Shorthorn Steer Calves.
3 Cars of Whiteface Steers, 600 to 700 Lbs. (good and medium Priced.
2 Cars of Low Priced Shorthorn Steers, good colored cattle and a very good buy.

The grass is very good in the West this year and with the well known shortage of feeders it makes it very hard to buy these cattle in any large quantities. So if you wish to purchase some cattle for grass and we do not have what you want we will drop you a line on arrival of the particular kind that you desire. Can be seen any day or evening.

POPEYE—It's In the Cards!

THE JEEP KNOWS WHERE SWEE'PEA IS, BUT HE CAN'T TELL ME WHERE, UNLESS I NAME ALL THE PLACES HE MAY BE AT AND ASK HIM IF SWEE'PEA IS THERE
NOW, LET ME SEE—
EUGENE, IS SWEE'PEA IN THIS TOWN?
IS HE OUT IN THE COUNTRY?
IS HE ON A TRAIN?
IS HE IN AN AUTOMOBILE?
ON A WAGON?
DID HE JOIN A CIRCUS?
THE ARMY?
OR THE NAVY?
IS HE IN AN AIRPLANE?
IS HE ON A BOAT?
HE IS?
OH, GOODY! THEN POPEYE MUST KNOW WHERE HE IS, EUGENE!
NO? POPEYE DOESN'T KNOW?
WELL, DOES SWEE'PEA KNOW WHERE POPEYE IS?
HE DOES?
HA! NOW WE'RE GETTING SOMEWHERE! IF I ASK THE JEEP THE RIGHT QUESTION I'LL FIND OUT JUST EXACTLY WHERE SWEE'PEA IS!
WE'RE NOT SO HOT AS A FORTUNE-TELLER—BUT WE'LL BET THIS HAS SOMETHING TO DO WITH THAT MYSTERIOUS PLACE TO WHICH POPEYE WANTS TO SAIL

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—Reading Down to Rio

By Harold Gray

HA! HA! ALL THOSE BOOKS! WHEN DO YOU THINK YOU'LL FIND TIME TO READ? WHY, YOU WON'T EVEN WANT TO READ ON A TRIP SUCH AS WE'RE TAKING-
OH, YOU NEVER CAN TELL- LOTS OF BOOKS HERE I'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO READ-
IT WOULD TAKE YOU YEARS TO READ ALL OF THOSE-WHY, WITH THE CAMPAIGN COMING, YOU'LL WANT TO BE BACK IN A MONTH-
NOT ME! I'M FED UP WITH POLITICS- DON'T EVEN WANT TO HEAR ABOUT POLITICS-
6-21-40
WHY, YOU COULD EVEN BE GOVERNOR, THEY SAY, IF YOU'D RUN FOR IT-
I WOULDN'T EVEN RUN FOR THE LAST BUS ON A RAINY NIGHT- SURE! I'M LAZY-
I'M ALSO SICK OF FAT GANGSTERS, POLITICIANS, CHISELERS, CROWDS! YOU AND ANNIE AND SANDY AND I ARE GOING TO LIVE ALONE FOR A SPELL--- AND LIKE IT!
HAROLD GRAY

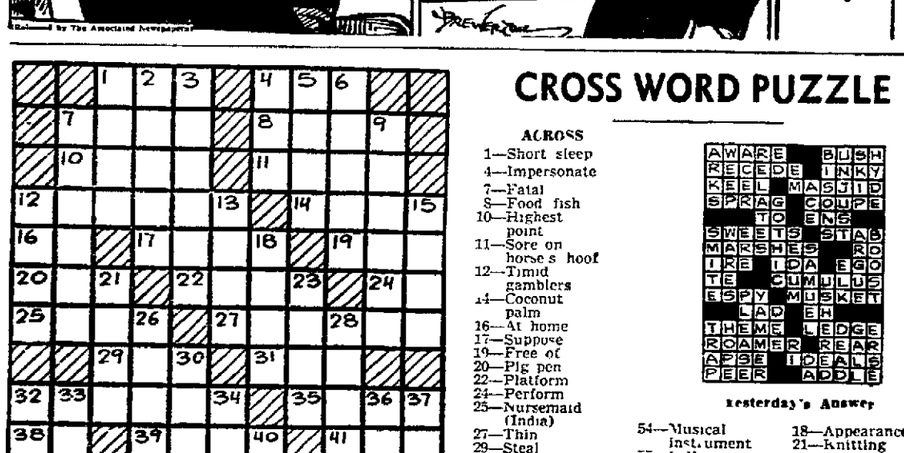
PAM—Not Hopeful!

By A. W. Brewerton



GOODNESS! WHAT?
LOOK OUT, PAM, YOU'RE RUNNING INTO THE TABLE! WAIT!- LET ME---
---HELP YOU!
THE TABLE?!- OH DEAR, I THOUGHT I WAS NEAR THE BEDROOM DOOR! GOODNESS! EVEN THOUGH I'M SO FAMILIAR WITH THIS ROOM, IT'S -NOT SO EASY- WALKING WITHOUT SEEING!
6-21
I- JUST CAN'T FEEL VERY HOPEFUL ABOUT THOSE FAMOUS DOCTORS DOING ANYTHING FURTHER! DOCTOR BOOTH IS RECOGNIZED AS ONE OF THE BEST MEN IN THIS CITY- I'VE EVERY CONFIDENCE IN HIM!---
DAVID IS GROWING GAUNT AND HOLLOW-EYED!
---THAT'S WHY I PLACED PAM IN HIS HANDS!- BUT SHE MUST HAVE EVERY CHANCE!- MAYBE, THEY CAN DO SOMETHING! WELL- THEY'LL SOON BE HERE AND WE'LL FIND OUT!
TWO OF THE MOST EMINENT DOCTORS IN AMERICA! WHAT WILL THEY SAY?

BRICK BRADFORD—Seeks the Diamond Doll.

By William Ritt and Clarence Gray

ULP! WHERE AM I? IN A WIGWAM! I'M A PRISONER OF THOSE REDSKINS!
NOT A PRISONER, MR. BUCKO- LET'S SAY A PATIENT!
WHY-WHY IT'S LITTLE MOONBEAM! SAY, LET ME UP! I GOTTA GIT HELP! BRICK'S IN DANGER! HELP!
LET ME UP- I TELLYA- I GOTTA GIT HELP!
OH, GOODNESS- HE'S DELIRIOUS! NOW JUST LIE QUIET LIKE A GOOD BOY!

LITTLE ACTION SEEN TODAY ON STOCK MARKET

Small Turnover Precedes Word of Armistice Terms For France.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — The stock market went through the motions today and that was about all.

The turnover in the first 60 minutes was around 90,000 shares, smallest for this period since June 3.

As in the preceding session, many traders stood aside pending publication of the German armistice proposals to France.

Bonds, especially secondary railway liens, were higher. Commodities were steady. "Free" sterling improved.

Stocks accorded support included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, Consolidated Edison, Allied Chemical, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber and Johns-Manville.

Backward were American Telephone, Texas Corp., J. C. Penney and Montgomery Ward.

On the cheerful side of the market picture was the weekend survey of Dun & Bradstreet which told of expanding merchandise distribution throughout the country.

A constructive indicator was seen in figures of early reporting railroads for May disclosing net operating income for this month exceeded the like 1940 period by about 87 per cent.

Hitler Gives Peace Terms at Compiegne

Demands Aim at Use of French Wealth In War With Britain; Pageant Staged at Historic Scene.

French, according to the German view, dictated terms of peace in 1918.

Today's proceedings in the railway coach, converted after the last war into a memorial to the military greatness of France, "effectively blots out the injustices committed against German arms," an official statement said.

It was left to General Keitel to read to the French a preamble to the armistice terms, enacting for Germany the role played by General Maxime Weygand, Allied commander-in-chief, in the last armistice. As chief of staff to the late Marshal Ferdinand Foch, Weygand read the peace terms in 1918.

"On behalf of the supreme commander of the German defense forces," Keitel said, "I am charged to tell you the following:

"'Trusting the assurances of President Wilson, confirmed by the Allies, the German defense forces in 1918 laid down their arms.

"Therewith ended a war which neither the German people nor its government wanted.

"During that war our enemies, despite overwhelming odds, did not succeed in decisively defeating the German army, navy and air force.

"But already on the arrival of the German armistice commission, promises solemnly given by our enemies were broken.

"November 11, 1918, marked the date of the beginning of the sufferings of the German nation.

"Whatever dishonor, humiliation and human and material suffering could be imposed on a nation were begun here.

"Breaking pledges and perjuring themselves, the Allies conspired against our nation, which after four years of heroic resistance had fallen victim to its sole weakness—a willingness to believe in the promises of democratic statesmen.

"On September 3, 1939—25 years after the outbreak of the World war—England and France declared war on Germany again without reason.

"Now the decision of arms has come.

"France is defeated. The French government has requested the Reich to notify it of the German conditions of armistice.

"The historic Compiegne forest was chosen for acceptance of these conditions in order to extinguish, by this act of redressing justice, once and for all a remembrance which represents no glorious leaf in the history of France and one which was resented by the German people as the deepest disgrace of all time.

"After heroic resistance in an unbroken succession of bloody battles, France has been defeated and has collapsed.

"Germany therefore does not intend to bestow armistice terms or conduct armistice negotiations in the character of defamations against a gallant enemy.

"The purpose of the German demands is as follows:

"1—To prevent resumption of the war against Germany.

"2—To give Germany all guarantees ensuring continuance of the war against England.

"3—To create the basis of a new peace whose most essential contents will be redressing of the wrongs inflicted on Germany."

Immediately after General Keitel had finished reading the preamble, Hitler left the railway coach.

Outside stood a military band in the smart uniforms of one of the fuehrer's picked regiments.

It played not the Horst Wessel song or any of the anthems of Nazi Germany but the triumphant strains of the imperial German Reich: "Deutschland Uber Alles."

The whole ceremony took but ten minutes.

It was a "blitz" armistice—in keeping with the "blitz" warfare that Germany has so successfully prosecuted thus far.

Hitler arrived on the scene at 3:15 p. m. to be greeted by an honor guard. His first move was to visit the Alsace-Lorraine monument and stand for a moment in the hot sun at a stiff military salute.

He then walked down the wide lane leading to the monument commemorating the 1918 armistice, which includes a statue of the late Marshal Foch, and regarded it with arms folded. He silently contemplated the various inscriptions and then turned away to enter the historic railway coach in which the drama was to be enacted.

Hitler sat in the railway car for five minutes before the French delegation arrived, promptly at 3:30 p. m. With his deputy leaders and military and naval entourage, he arose and saluted the French representatives.

The fuehrer carried out this crowning touch to his career of German leadership to the ultimate degree.

He sat in the same chair where Marshal Foch sat in 1918—the chair from which, according to the Nazi view, republican France decreed the execution of imperial Germany.

Not a word was said when the French emissaries stepped into the coach which for over two decades has stood in this forest as a symbol of French military might.

Hitler and his aides received the French with a stiff-armed Nazi salute and at a signal from the fuehrer, Keitel began reading the preamble.

The French listened in silence.

Immediately afterward, Hitler stepped down from the coach, leaving Keitel and his staff officers behind to discuss technical details of the capitulation.

At 4:24 p. m., 54 minutes after they had been received to hear the fate of their nation, the French departed.

A telephone was placed at their disposal to communicate to the refugee French government the terms of peace and hear a final decision, which was expected at any moment.

To preserve the tradition of Nazi party domination of the government, the band played the Horst Wessel song when "Deutschland Uber Alles" was finished. The fuehrer reviewed an honor guard, saluted briskly and entered his high-powered military car, presumably to drive back to the fighting front and leave Compiegne behind him—a landmark in history for the second time in a generation.

There was no audience to view this major chapter in the story of civilization. A handful of German officers and foreign newspapermen were the only ones there.

Duke and Duchess of Windsor On Way Back to England

LONDON—(INS)—The London Evening Standard in a dispatch from Barcelona today reported that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor have reached that Spanish city en route to England.

The dispatch quoted Major Phillips, the duke's aide, as stating:

"The duke and duchess have no plans except to find a way of getting back to England."

MADRID—(INS)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who arrived in Barcelona last night from southern France accompanied by a party of nine, planned to continue to Madrid tomorrow, it was stated today.

Later they probably will travel to England via Lisbon, Portugal, according to informed sources.

The duke and duchess crossed the border into Spain after completing the usual formalities. The duke told correspondents at Barcelona that he planned to stop at the British embassy in Madrid.

NAMED ASSISTANT POSTMASTER AFTER 27 YEARS IN SERVICE

CRESTLINE—Floyd M. Teeter who has been connected with Crestline post office the past 27 years will become assistant postmaster, effective July 1.

Mr. Teeter who fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of E. T. Talbott on March 31, has been serving the 90 day probationary period required before an appointment can become effective.

Recommended by Postmaster F. P. Hayes for the position, the postoffice department at Washington has now approved the recommendation.

Mr. Teeter first received his appointment on May 13, 1913, as substitute city carrier serving in this capacity for two years, and from 1915 to 1920 he served as rural carrier, in 1920 he was appointed clerk, which position he has held until the present time. He was senior clerk in the office.

The appointment of Robert McJunkin, who has served as mail guard the past 17 years, as clerk in the office to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Teeter's promotion, was also announced at this time. John Rust, substitute guard will become regular guard and a substitute guard will be recommended by Postmaster Hayes for appointment.

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. Maude Chew Boyce Dies in Franklin Township Home.

Mrs. Maud Chew Boyce, 66, resident of Richland county her entire life, died last night at her home in Franklin township following a brief illness.

Born in Bloominggrove township, Nov. 4, 1874, Mrs. Boyce was a member of the Harmony Baptist church.

Survivors include her husband, William E. Boyce at home; two brothers, A. B. Chew, Pavonia, and George Chew, Wichita, Kan.; two sisters, Mrs. Viola Boals, Pavonia, and Mrs. Fearl Dick, Mansfield, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd Boyce at home.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the home with Rev. W. L. Peters of the Shelby Baptist church officiating. Burial will be in Olivesburg cemetery.

F.D.R. ATTACKS OPPONENTS OF CABINET MOVE

Hits at Partisan Motives; Says Cartel Economic Defense Plan.

was thinking about the general situation.

He realized, he said, there was some sort of difference between kinds of people—those who think in terms of patriotic motives and those who think in terms of partisan motives.

Further, deponent sayeth not, he concluded, except to point to his formal statements of yesterday that he was undertaking "a defensive program not aimed at intervention in world affairs which do not concern the American hemisphere."

Returning to the trade cartel plan, Mr. Roosevelt said he doubted that the paid-in capital of the directing corporation would run anywhere near as high as two billion dollars. He pointed out that it was possible to do five to ten times as much business as is represented in the capital structure.

Exclusive of the United States, the total of Central and South American surpluses last year ran to a little over a billion dollars. Including the United States the total that would have to be swung would run short of two billion dollars. The president checked these figures with Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins, who sat beside him.

Further, said the president, all participating nations will be invited to contribute to the structure.

He said the matter of existing Latin American debts to the United States constituted no problem. Most of the American Republics, he ventured, would like to clear their debts up and have the money spent within their own boundaries. He reported that definite progress is being made along this line.

The president formally outlined his proposed trade pool as follows:

"Our discussions have gone forward in regard to action designed to advance the economic relationships in the western hemisphere and to create new means and basis of economic cooperation among the American republics. In some of its essential features, the program of cooperative economic action by the American republics and possibly by other countries is being undertaken in response to new—but, we hope, temporary—developments in international relations. It is not intended to replace the program of reciprocal trade agreements which has been steadfastly pursued by the government of the United States. We continue to believe that the basic principles of that program offer the most effective basis for mutually beneficial economic relations among nations, and we are determined to work, as circumstances permit, for their fullest possible application.

"The program of action now being formulated involves a proposal, which is being placed before the American governments for their consideration, to create by mutual agreement an appropriate inter-American organization for dealing with certain basic problems of their trade relations, including an effective system of joint marketing of the important staple exports of the American republics. We intend also to proceed promptly and vigorously through many existing agencies to deal with various immediate difficulties now facing some American republics.

"Appropriate legislative proposals necessary to make possible certain of the operations in connection with the projected program will be submitted to congress in due course.

"These measures are a part of a program of economic defense designed to supplement our military defense program. They are intended as a further safeguard for the peace of this hemisphere and as a means of protecting our economy and economies of the other American republics for the repercussions of the disturbed international situation."

Mr. Roosevelt said that so far as he knew there would be no further cabinet changes.

Nazis Unperturbed By Appointments.

BERLIN—(INS)—Nomination of Henry L. Stimson and Col. Frank Knox as American secretary of war and secretary of the navy is the United States' "own affair and none of Germany's business," a spokesman for the German foreign office said today.

"It is interesting only inasmuch as it causes the anti-German press to indluge in certain speculations," the spokesman said.

Japan Shows Only Mild Surprise.

TOKYO—(INS)—President Roosevelt's nomination of Henry L. Stimson and Col. Frank Knox as American secretary of war and secretary of the navy, respectively, caused only mild surprise in Japan today.

A Japanese foreign office spokesman expressed hopes that "his new job will keep Stimson from interfering in far eastern affairs."

CHILD KILLED, TWO INJURED

Galion Boy, 4, Fatally Hurt When Struck by Auto as He Crosses Street.

Attendants reported his condition as "good."

Stevens was treated for lacerations and then released.

Says Brakes Failed.

Young Stevens who was driving the car told police that the brakes on the car failed to hold and that he tried to swing the machine up the tracks to avoid the collision. Officers said the train did not stop.

The Steffee boy, Galion authorities said, was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. H. G. Garverick. She was not held

According to witnesses the boy ran into the path of the Garverick machine while crossing the street to join three companions, including his brother, Donald.

Mrs. Garverick told police that she applied the brakes but could not bring the car to a stop soon enough to avoid the accident. She took the youth to the Good Samaritan hospital where he died an hour later. Physicians said he suffered a fractured collar bone and internal injuries.

The boy is survived by his parents, three sisters and a brother, all at home.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at the Volk funeral home with Rev. H. K. Freeman officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

MURDER CASE, 12 OTHERS ON JURY'S DOCKET

Marriott Says Investigating Panel Won't Be Summoned Until Aug. 1.

County Prosecutor Glenn W. Marriott said today he did not plan to move up a session of the Richland county grand jury, set for Aug. 1, because of the murder case that was added to the court docket yesterday.

"We still do not have enough cases on the calendar to warrant immediate calling of the grand jury and there is no intention now of changing the original schedule," Marriott said.

Albert Davis, 37, colored, was taken to the county jail yesterday afternoon to await hearing of the first degree murder charge against him in connection with the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Lena Morton, 34, also colored, Tuesday night.

At least 12 other cases are scheduled for hearing by the grand jury when it convenes in August. Eleven of the defendants, including Davis, are in the county jail. The others are:

Howard G. French, accused of carrying concealed weapons; James Foster, cited for criminal assault; Richard Eby and Virginia Pahl, charged with forgery; Maynard Stover, Clifford Nixon and Fred DeWeese, non-support; Charles and Clarence Ruckman, brothers, held for receiving stolen property; and Jesse L. Baith, breaking and entering.

Marriott said there would be "two or three" other cases submitted to the jury for secret indictments because the defendants are at large.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1940.

It does little good for hysterical people to advise other folks to be calm.

Uncle Sam's neutrality policy is said to puzzle the Nazis—which seems to make it unanimous.

According to a Philadelphia surgeon, "with half a brain a man can get along fairly well"—at least to the extent of qualifying for a driver's license.

Competent Men Chosen

COMING only a few days before the opening of the Republican national convention, President Roosevelt's appointment of two Republicans to important cabinet posts can scarcely be considered apart from political implications, with first thought turning to the already suggested idea that it may mean the president will not be a candidate for third term.

In the matter of qualifications and sterling Americanism, there can be no doubt as to the wisdom of the selections made and it may well be regretted that a president's cabinet personnel is not regularly chosen with a view to assured capability rather than partisan considerations.

Henry L. Stimson's experience as secretary of war and as secretary of state gives him a background of knowledge of national and international affairs which will be of inestimable value in the present situation, and the recognized ability of Col. Frank Knox, with his broad grasp of national problems, makes him an excellent man for the post to which he has been named.

If, as should be the case in a time like this, there is a sincere desire on the part of President Roosevelt to disregard partisan politics and consider only the present and future welfare of the nation, these appointments merit commendation.

Any idea, however, that such a move may weaken present determination to nominate the best available Republican candidate for president at next week's convention in Philadelphia, seems quite unjustified, and immediate announcement by President Roosevelt that he will not accept a third-term Democratic nomination will go far toward strengthening public confidence as to sincerity of his motives in disregarding party lines at a time when the preservation of democracy demands national unity.

The Privilege of Self-Government

WHILE Hitler is tightening his grip on Europe and as the totalitarian ideology becomes a world threat, it is well to keep in mind that democracy is an experiment in government based on acceptance of the theory that human beings are entitled to equal rights and privileges and are CAPABLE OF SELF-GOVERNMENT, rather than being subject to arbitrary edicts of either hereditary or self-appointed rulers.

Earlier efforts to establish the principles of democracy as a method of government failed because a majority of people had not reached the degree of intelligence required for such responsibilities—and that condition even now exists in some parts of the world, where savage tribes still constitute a considerable percentage of the population.

It has been said on a number of occasions, in South American countries where some form of dictatorship is in vogue, that the aspiration in those countries is to advance, as rapidly as possible, toward democracy as it is practiced in the United States.

Even Great Britain found it necessary to proceed slowly in granting added liberties to citizens of various parts of the empire, in accord with their increasing capabilities for self government.

Looking into past history, in relation to present conditions in Europe, it seems not unlikely that slow-moving civilization has not yet reached a sufficiently wide spread in Russia, Germany and Italy to make self-government practicable and that reasonable restrictions on individual liberties may be necessary.

But such a condition, if it exists, by no means excuses the present effort to inflict dictatorship on other nations, and on peoples who have demonstrated ability to govern themselves in ways that have brought steady progress.

Even in the United States there is an appreciable minority made up of criminals and others who do not meet the reasonable requirements of good citizenship, whose presence is an argument against the practicability of a government "of the people, by the people, for the people"—but this most certainly does not warrant abandonment of the fine principles of democracy and substitution of a dictatorship, with its inescapable evils and the barbaric doctrine that "might makes right."

Just as it is necessary to provide means of protection against those maladjusted persons who do not voluntarily comply with laws intended for the public welfare, it is now necessary to take such steps as are deemed advisable to adequately safeguard this entire nation against forces which have stepped out of their proper setting in the dark ages to become a menace to those of the human family who have progressed beyond their understanding.

Admit Tax Ignorance

THE other evening all the experts on the "Information Please" radio program admitted not knowing certain facts about taxes that almost all of us pay. The questions asked the amount of federal tax on playing cards, on gasoline, on cigarets and on movie admissions of less than 25 cents. It may be that the experts could have answered any one of the questions at the time when the respective taxes were first imposed and were in the news. But, although paying one or another of them regularly, they have no idea now how much they are or what is their total in the family budget.

One listener at least considers that ignorance, or indifference, most unfortunate. If such citizens do not know the common federal taxes they are paying, it seems that average citizens know even less about them. These and various invisible taxes put money into the federal coffers without registering in the civic mind.

"In percentage, and in total amount," says the observer, "three of them are very large. Yet the individual pays them almost unknowingly, and because he doesn't know, he doesn't complain. It would be a wholesome deterrent to the waste of public money if he did know."

Americans are willing to pay taxes. They know that no government, local or state or national, can be run without funds. But they are too indifferent to give the forms of taxation any real attention. It would be better citizenship, and more profitable, to keep informed on such matters.

A hobbyist out in Kansas is said to have collected 8,000 buttons without having ever operated a steam laundry.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—If the peculiar talents of Dr. Henry Lee Smith, jr., who joins the faculty of Brown university this fall, were solicited by the police they no doubt would be of inestimable value in the detection of crime.

Dr. Smith, however, employs these talents for pleasure and for profit. His specialty concerns the fundamentals of public speaking, and his special gift is this:

He can "place" you by listening to you read a few simple lines. By "placing" you he can tell you whether you come from Brooklyn or Des Moines, San Francisco or Dallas. People who live within 25 miles of each other may employ an entirely different style of speech. His ear is so practiced in these "dialects" that he can easily "place" you after only a few moments of conversation.

* * *

THE Dr. says the principal classifications of American speech are: New England, which divides into coastal and interior; south, which divides into tidewater, or general plantation, or southern hill, and midwestern, which includes the phonetic bulk of American speech.

The Bronx and Brooklyn are only a few miles apart, yet there is a vast difference in the pronunciation of words. Dr. Smith says people in the Bronx use more dentalizations — that is, placing the tongue against the teeth.

So widely has his fame spread that this 26-year-old native of Baltimore, Md., now conducts a weekly broadcast over a wide network. Guests who are total strangers to him are invited to read a few simple lines. After listening to them, he analyzes their speech and tells what section of the country they are from. On a recent evening he correctly placed a woman who had lived in New Orleans, and two people who had been childhood friends but who hadn't seen each other for years. They were from cities in the west just 60 miles apart.

* * *

TO OUTWARD appearances the war hasn't had much effect on the New York theater—there is, in fact, only one war play on Broadway. But underneath, in the unseen records of the box-office and in the piled up scenery in the warehouses, the effect has been tremendous. It boils down to this: the public is puzzled and troubled. It has neither the time nor the inclination to waste money on mediocre plays. A tip-off was the failure recently of George M. Cohan, who is a beloved figure and, more than that, a tradition on Broadway. In other years he only would have had to wave an American flag. This season his play, "The Return of the Vagabond," was gently and sympathetically ushered off the boards by a public that is too interested in newspaper headlines and radio commentators to bother with second-rate entertainment. Good plays receive the attention they merit. Bad ones are cut down, bluntly, by what can be described only as the sobered apathy of a public that is thinking of today and its realities, rather than the make-believe of the theater.

DON'T LOOK NOW. IT MIGHT BE UNPLEASANT

Congress Stumped By Tax Clamor

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

FOR THE first time in American history (probably in the history of any country on earth) voters are clamoring to be more highly taxed.

Photographs have been broadcast throughout the land showing great throngs of them yowling for higher levies on their own income, to enable Uncle Sam the better to prepare for war.

Legislators are completely stumped. It always has been axiomatic among them that taxes positively mustn't be boosted in an election year. Boosts not only have never been demanded by the taxpaying public before; if decreed by the lawmakers the latter have taken it for granted that the reaction against them would be overwhelming at the pools.

Politicians are not altogether confident that the taxpayers are sure of themselves even yet. Political old hands are suspicious that while the multitude is favorable to stiffer levies, provided for right now, they will resent them when collection day arrives. The preceding election following the tax increases, by then will be water over the dam. However, there are senators and representatives farsighted enough to look ahead to a succeeding election.

From the administration's viewpoint it is highly gratifying to have its defense recommendations popularly so ardently endorsed, with an accompanying endorsement of the financial allowances necessary to foot the bill.

Nevertheless, if there is a pronounced economy revulsion a little later on, it will not be so pleasant for the latter part of the incoming administration's term.

Future mass sentiment inevitably must depend largely upon the war's progress.

As to the Future.

If the totalitarian nations continue their sweep, it generally will be agreed that no amount, voted for Uncle Sam's defense, was too much.

On the other hand, let the Allies develop a streak of luck, and the complaint is quite likely to be made that they were in a position to take care of themselves and that we overdid ourselves providing to help them.

Italy's entrance into the struggle no doubt will weigh considerably with American ideas of what the Allies need.

The fact remains that expert Yankee militarists do not take Signor Mussolini and his followers very seriously.

His navy is pretty good, but no match for British and French sea strength. His aviation service is well spoken of, but the authoritative consensus is that in his position he needs a formidable army to back up his submarines particularly, and planes.

And an army is precisely what all qualified critics say he hasn't got worth speaking of.

In short, it seems o be widely accepted that he will be little if any more use to Herr Hitler as an active military ally than he has been in recent weeks just as a potential partner.

As to the Yankee electorate there appears to be less prospect of a howl that we have spent too much as that Uncle Sam may be accused of doing his spending injudiciously and extravagantly.

Listen, World!

What's Good for Young America?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I DON'T BELIEVE IT, MRS. ROOSEVELT! Which is certainly an unique statement, coming from me, who has always been Mrs. FDR's constant and enthusiastic admirer. Not that I go for everything she does. I simply couldn't endure that hat with the plumes. Eleanor! There oughtta be a law against agile Amazons, like you'n' me, Going Rosebud. But, apart from that, I think you're as regular a citizen as ever burned trails across this continent, and as gallant a lady. Moreover, our Favorite Dish is identical—we both are loco about K-I-D-S. And strong for helping them. But when it comes to method, I rise to disagree. Which is why I'm here today.

Generous Lady Eleanor believes there should be no limit to the service we should give to Youth, the tolerance we should show toward its possible blunders, the opportunity we should offer it, and the protection we should devise for it if any Ole Meanies start picking on it.

In a recent interview, she explained her general program, as regards Young America: — To prevent future difficulties by keeping our eye on our youth, helping them to solve their problems, giving them a chance, not avoiding or condemning them."

Which, I admit, listens lovely. But in actual practice it's downright dangerous. Mind you, I'm deeply devoted to the Younger Generation and sympathetic with its troubles. But I doubt if the economic and industrial upsets of the last ten years harmed Young America one-tenth as much as our uncontrolled pity and palaver. Every normal adolescent thinks his elders have Done Him Dirt, anyway; and that no one has ever had such a tough deal as he. Unwise agreement with him, on this score, is apt to turn him into a Chronic Crybaby and Professional Martyr.

So I do NOT subscribe to the Hovering Hen school of child training. I do NOT believe in smoothing all the pebbles from Junior's path. It's my experience that the youngster who doesn't learn how to cope with pebbles when he's young will probably have to tackle rock piles, at the state's expense, when he's a man.

Nor do I agree with Mrs. Roosevelt's "no avoiding, no condemnation" policy. Tolerance is a beautiful thing, but we'd all be scooting pantless through some jungle, eating our defeated neighbors and feeding our Old Folk to the crocodiles, if there hadn't been some lively "avoiding and condemning." And I can name several thousand vivacious Young Hopefuls who will shortly become Public - Pains - in - the-Neck unless they promptly receive a plentiful jolt of the same.

After all, there's nothing abnormal or unfair in passing reasonable judgment on the other fellow's cussedness. It's merely Nature's device for protecting the species against Blights and Bores, and kicking us all upstairs into civilization. So why treat Junior as if he were the Sun-god . . . particularly since he thinks he is, anyway!

Let us give the Youngsters our unbounded faith and friendliness, by all means. Let us give them gratis all the resources of regular or "mail order" education which they can assimilate or are willing to take. Let us, above all, give them an opportunity to support themselves, marry and have a family. But let us insist that they bring to this opportunity the same spirit which their fighting fathers brought!

Let them be willing to start at the bottom and work up gradually, instead of expecting to take off where Dad and Mom ended. Let them take any decent job that offers instead of demanding some specialized, pet position. Let them discard the vicious attitude for which we older ones have been so largely responsible — the feeling that all handicaps are evil and unjust. Let them realize, instead, that hard breaks are a normal part of existence to be expected and assimilated. And that the chap who can't stand a little roughing around is just another human marshmallow and should be treated accordingly.

That's my program for Youth, Lady Eleanor. No special exemptions, you'll note. No coddling—no pampering projects— no alibis when it's in the wrong. BUT I'LL BET THE KIDS CAN TAKE IT. AND IF THEY CAN'T, OR WON'T, THEN THIS IS A SWELL TIME TO FIND OUT!

Love of Good Music.

The activities of the National Committee for the Appreciation of Music offer a real opportunity to spread the love of good music in this community. Appreciation of good music does not come without a degree of effort. Neither does the appreciation of fine literature. A person with no musical experience can no more expect to be entranced by a Beethoven symphony at the first hearing than can a person who hasn't read books expect to be carried away by a Shakespearean play.

By providing that people can experiment with a few of the great orchestra works on their phonographs at small expense, the committee expects to excite interest in the best that music has to offer. The campaign should prove of real value in leading people, both children and adults, to a better appreciation of the beauty that the verdict of human experience has found in the great composers.—Kansas City Times.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today we celebrate the ratification of the Constitution by New Hampshire in 1788.

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Tragic irony of fate was that after Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau had led the fight to get surplus army supplies for France some of his own customs people in New York held them up. The supplies never got there until after France surrendered.

Knowing that the French army was fighting almost without weapons, Morgenthau had blasted war department red tape and secured the release of some 75-millimeter field artillery, plus other World war weapons.

But when they were about to be loaded on a French ship in New York, Morgenthau's customs officials objected, said that the vessel could not carry munitions. The matter was appealed to Washington, where Morgenthau once again cut red tape. But then the port authorities in New York claimed the guns were not loaded right, and made the French load them over again.

And as the final obstacle, some of the Norwegian and Dutch stevedores in New York refused to help load the vessel, apparently being "Fifth Columnists" or else fearful of Nazi reprisals.

NOTE: Nazi pressure on Dutch, Belgian, Norwegian and other conquered nationalities in the United States usually is applied by threats to retaliate against their relatives in Europe.

GOP Tickets.

IF YOU are planning to go to the Republican convention and need a ticket, the man to tag is peppy National Chairman John Hamilton. Farsightedly, he prepared himself for just such last minute touches by laying aside a stock of 500 cardboards.

There was a bit of squawking about this in the arrangements committee, but Hamilton got his way. He also proposed that 10 tickets each be given to the 600 contributors who gave $1,000 apiece last winter to clean up the party's deficit. This was an innovation and some of the old-timers objected, but in the end Hamilton put it through.

Another 1,000 tickets were set aside for regular contributors to the GOP war chest. The press was allocated 900 and radio 328. Both were more than asked for, but the extras were for expected last minute calls.

Members of the arrangements committee got 25 each and Joe Pew, melancholy Pennsylvania boss, was given 1047 for his local committee. Why the odd number was not explained.

Evaporating Empire.

FIRST piece of the British Empire which may be wrested away as a result of the World war is likely to be the tiny colony of British Honduras, just across the Gulf of Mexico from New Orleans.

Plans are being made by the neighboring republic of Guatemala to take over this slice of Britain as soon as the time is ripe.

Guatemala's claims on British Honduras go back to about 1840, when it was wrested from Guatemala by a British pirate. The British government at that time didn't have any great enthusiasm for taking on the new colony, until some years later London discovered British Honduras to be rich in mahogany.

So the British government worked out a settlement with Guatemala whereby, in return for the colony, Britain would build a road to the coast. However, the road never was built. It is because of this that President Ubico, dictator of Guatemala, has been chafing at the bit and making plans to take the country back from Britain.

If he does, the state department is not likely to object. Ubico, although a dictator, is pro-American, and British Honduras would be far better in his hands than in Germany's.

Note—Chief owner of British Honduras mahogany is Sir Samuel Hoare, imperialist and unpopular member of the Chamberlain cabinet.

Einstein's Theory.

PROFESSOR EINSTEIN sat next to Mrs. Morgenthau at a White House dinner. With innocent expression and heavy German accent, he turned to her and apologized for his poor command of English.

"My English, it is abominable," he said. "I am speaking always very badly. You must pardon me, madame . . ."

Here his face brightened. "But I understand—oh yes, I understand all. When English is spoken, I comprehend each word. When the President speaks" (and here he glanced toward his host at the end of the table) "I listen and I understand. His voice on the radio is so clear."

But at this point, an expression of doubt crossed the face of the scientist. "I understand his words, word by word, very clearly, but when he is finish, I do not know whether he say 'Yes' or whether he say 'No.'

Indian Fifth Columnists.

TWO years ago in a suburb of Diego, Calif., an ex-convict, who had served terms in San Quentin and Folsom, was picked up on a concealed weapon charge. While searching his car, police found a batch of papers which were turned over to the office of navy intelligence.

At that time the information contained in the documents was not considered important, and they were stuck away in a navy file in Washington. But today these papers have become a key link in the government's efforts to smash a far-flung Nazi fifth column plot among the Indians.

The conspiracy involves propaganda not only among U. S. Indians, but in Mexico and other Latin American countries. The seriousness of the plot is shown by the fact that Indians constitute the following proportions of the population in these countries:

Mexico, 80 per cent; Ecuador, 80; Bolivia and Peru, 85; Guatemala, (where we have an air base) 80; Colombia, 50; Venezuela, 50.

Aim of the Nazis, according to FBI discoveries, is to stir up a "persecution" clamor among U. S. Indians (as was done among the Sudeten Germens before Munich); then use this movement for anti-U. S. agitation among the tribesmen in Mexico and South America.

One of the weapons used is a series of photographs, picturing the "squalid and disgraceful" living conditions on Indian reservations. The pictures were taken by Colin Ross, fugitive Nazi propagandist, when he visited this country several years ago.

The papers taken from the exconvict revealed a direct tie-up between certain Bund leaders and this movement; also, that considerable sums of money are being contributed from secret sources.

The Judas Tree

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I SAW a Judas tree as big as a normal apple tree growing in my neighbor's garden. I recognized it, with delight, as the largest, most symmetrical specimen I had ever seen.

"How old is that tree?" I asked.

"We've lived here 20 years, come September. When we came it was just a scrubby bush that some stray goats had ruined. I 'lowed to dig it up but my wife said 'No, let's leave it there,' and she pruned it down to a single sprout with the butcher knife. Now you see plain that she had her way—and like in some other things around here, I'm glad she did.

"That first year it got leaves and looked like any common sprout, but mother built a shelter around it and put fertilizer there and it kept growin' all summer.

"The next spring, before leaves were out on any other trees, Mom came in one mornin' early with her face beamin' like somethin' wonderful had happened. She hurried me out here. There it was, covered with tiny rose-pink buds the shape of locust blooms from the tip down to the very trunk. The flowers seemed to come out of the wood just anywhere. We both stood there together quiet for a while and looked. The sun shone on the moist buds until it looked afire. Then Mom and me took hold of hands and went into the house. Somehow when I was workin' in the field I kept rememberin' that tree and how we'd felt to look at it. Every spring brings back an anniversary of that feelin'. I ain't even sure what the name of it is, but it's like some folks—a body can feel their goodness and the name don't matter."

"It's a redbud or Judas tree," I told him. "It belongs to the family of legumes like the locust, beggarwood, clover, peas, beans and alfalfa."

"You mean to say it has them noodles on the roots that bring nitrogen into the soil?" he asked, surprised.

"That's right—just notice how green and dark the grass grows under it, even in the deepest shade."

"How did it get the ugly name?"

"Legend has it that after Judas Iscariot sold the Savior for 30 pieces of silver he hanged himself upon a redbud tree."

"But that wasn't the tree's fault," suggested the farmer.

Thousands of British Citizens Flee From France

SAVAGERY OF WAR FINALLY HITS BRITAIN

Writer Says French Morale Broke, Bringing End of Resistance.

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
(INS Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE ON THE ENGLISH SOUTH COAST—The savagery of war has finally touched Great Britain as for the first time in her modern history thousands of her citizens took flight from Chancellor Hitler's war machine on the European continent.

With 1,500 other survivors of Hitler's assault upon France we reached England today on a ship whose maximum passenger capacity supposedly was 180.

Between Monday, when we boarded the ship at Bordeaux, and today our company endured several bombing attacks by German planes and escaped through a freshly laid field of magnetic mines.

Accompanying us, another ship carried several hundred more refugees, including the entire staff of the British embassy in France.

We both were escorted by several vessels of the British navy. Our four-day oddyssey of misery is a trifling incident—but it is a good illustration of what is happening to tens of millions throughout Europe.

Ninety per cent of us had homes in Paris. All of us left in German hands everything we owned in the world.

Among us are several persons well known in America, such as Eve Curie, daughter of the discoverer of radium, Henry Bernstein, famous French playwright, Robert Rothschild, Belgium Public Health Minister Jaspar and Former French Air Minister Pierre Cot.

Two thirds of the refugees were British and most of the other one-third were divided among French, Poles and Czechs. Four American newspapermen aboard the vessel were the only United States citizens.

All these 1,500 refugees are living in a half-dream, or rather in a nightmare, because none of us yet realizes that what has happened is real.

That France, this great country with its great army should have collapsed in five weeks, should have been nearly completely over-run and conquered in very little more time than it took to conquer Poland, that today the gravest question before the panic-stricken world is whether the French navy will be surrendered to Germany—these are facts which to us now witnessing them at close range seem to be imagined fancies.

Yet all of us have more reason than most to know how real these facts are.

We left Paris shortly after the French government and went to Tours May 10. We were there five days before the government was removed again to Bordeaux.

These were days full of false hopes and repeated assurances that the French army would hold.

It was impossible to report otherwise through the French censorship, which continued to the very end to be extremely harmful to the French cause.

But it was plain to us from repeated visits to the French front that, however large a role German material strength may have played in this French tragedy, it was French morale which broke and decided the issue.

The outside world knew only a fraction of the truth about the Germans' first break through and across the Meuse river early in May. This was one of the greatest military route in history.

Y.W.C.A. Daytime Camp Conducts Final Sessions

Final assemblies of the Y. W. C. A. daytime camp will begin Monday at 9 a. m. at the Y. W. with Miss Margaret West, general secretary, conducting a worship service and Miss Ellena Percy in charge of the song service.

This camp attended by 131 girls will close next Friday. Regular schedules of camp activities will be held throughout the week until Friday when the annual camp picnic will be held at the West side parks.

The girls will meet at 9 a m in South park and will hold an archery tournament. The Bible and drama group will present a play in Middle park and the girls will then go for a swim in Senior high school pool before returning to South park for a picnic luncheon.

increased relief load during 1941, tacked $5,000 on to a $30,000 request, based on this year's appropriation of funds for that purpose. The amount is to pay the city's share of the cost, part of which is met by state funds.

$16,500 Lopped Off.

Largest single item slashed from the budget request was $16,500 from the fire and police signal system and reduced next year's anticipated figure to $10,000 City Electrican Ernest Adams had sought $26,500 for underground improvements in Woodland and the industrial district.

Another $9,240 was taken off the police department request which cut the department's budget to $60,420. A total of $69,660 was asked to hire seven additional patrolmen.

The fire department's request of $871,435 to provide for four additional firemen was cut to $65,655—identical to the amount set up for this year's operations.

Requests by the parks commission for $24,800 for 1941 operations of the city park system was reduced $8,500. A total of $16,300 was set up for next year.

Health department, municipal court and the engineering department, all of which showed slight increases in requests were included in the budget with only little parring.

Friday night will be spent at Lima and on Saturday the party returns to Columbus, stopping at the Ohio Caverns. After luncheon at the Deshler the party will disband and children returned to their home.

BANK OFFICIALS FACE SENTENCE

Gambling Blamed for Short Accounts of Two Ohioans.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Mrs. Mildred Karshner, 47, former cashier of the Circleville National bank, today faced a 5-year sentence to a federal correctional institution after pleading guilty to four counts of embezzlement of $14,000 in bank funds and false entries.

Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood was told that Mrs. Karshner lost the money playing "the ponies."

Walter T. Botkin, 39, former teller in the City National bank, Columbus, was sentenced to 3½ years in a federal correctional institution, when he entered a plea of guilty to charges of embezzling $5 005 in bank funds and making false entries. He told the court he spent the money "gambling."

Others sentenced, terms and charges were, Grace Wendling, 30, Canal Winchester, 15 months, uttering forged prescriptions; Henry Lloyd Hood, 34, Hammondsville, 60 days on three counts, liquor charges; Earl Clifford Patterson, 29, New Matamoras 1 year, liquor charges; Alexander Vatula, 52, Maynard, two years, possession fermented mash.

Judge Underwood deferred sentence until next Tuesday of Vernon L. Rush, Columbus, and David H. Madison, 54, Steubenville, both charged with stealing from the mails. Both men are mail carriers.

GETS PAROLE

Ralph Williams, sentenced from Richland county for non-support, was among 44 inmates of the Ohio penitentiary who were paroled today by the Ohio Pardon and Parole commission.

Sentenced to the pen Jan. 17, 1939, Williams will be released Aug. 15 after serving about 18 months of a one-to-three-year sentence.

Speaker

DR. JOSEPH SITTLER

Dr. Sittler, president of the Lutheran Synod of Ohio, will speak at Clay Memorial Lutheran church Sunday.

REFUGEES SAFE

Two Liners Bring Americans From War-Torn Europe.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Two greyhounds of the Atlantic—the U. S. liner Washington and the British liner Brittanic—almost simultaneously nosed up the lower bay today to bring better than 2200 war refugees to America's shores.

While off the coast of Portugal, the Washington carrying 1,500 passengers, was stopped by a submarine whose commander repeatedly emphasized his determination of torpedoing the vessel and was dissuaded only by the reiterated signal—"American ship — American ship"—from the captain of the Washington.

Wholly unexpected was the arrival of the Brittanic.

Parking Meter Collector Stays too Long.

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(AP)—It was just like being bitten by your own dog. A man forfeited bond in recorder's court for violating the parking meter ordinance. He was one of the fellows who collect money from the meters.

REGISTRATION LIST HITS LOW

1,500 Names Dropped From City Lists, Mostly Bcause of Failure to Vote.

With more than 1,500 names dropped from the Mansfield voting registration lists recently, the total registration in the city is now 16,811, one of the lowest marks in the past two years, election board officials said today.

The names of more than 1,400 voters were removed from the eligible list because the voters failed to cast ballots at the last two general elections, automatically disqualifying them.

Approximately 100 voters have died since the first of the year, further reducing the number of registered electors, it was said.

Nearly 3,000 Mansfielders must register before the fall election deadline in October to bring the city registration up to the peak of two years ago when more than 19,000 persons were eligible to vote in the special school bond election.

TAXES HELP

Settlements Hike Mansfield's Cash Balance to $217,325.

Boosted by recent classified and personal property and real estate tax settlements, Mansfield today had a running cash balance of $217,325 in the municipal till, City Auditor Paul L. Kelley reported to council.

The amount, Kelley said, hiked by a total of $146,779 from the tax settlement, boosted the balance about $85,000 above the balance reported two months ago.

Kelley's balance sheet showed $30,355 in the general operating fund, $61,201 in the waterworks fund, $8,114 in the garbage fund, $26,746 in the sanitary sewer fund and $90,908 in the specials fund.

TITANIC SINKING RETOLD IN NEW LIBRARY NOVEL

Book Based on Disaster In 1912 Included in New List of Fiction.

One of the newest and most interesting books at the Mansfield Public library now is "Titanic," a novel based on the disaster of the Titanic on its maiden voyage in 1912. Erna McArthur has translated this story, written by Robert Friedlaender.

A collection of seven short stories, entitled "To Step Aside," by Noel Coward also will afford entertaining reading for borowers at the library.

Three new books on music have been added to the libary shelves this week. One by Dorothy Gaynor Blake deals with light opera, containing excerpts with song scores, while another edited by Chester Wallis, presents a collection of piano pieces for the home. The third book in this group is a series of arrangements for violin and piano by C. Paul Herfurth.

The new fiction list includes: TITANIC by Robert Friedlaender, translated by Erna McArthur, is a novel based upon the Titanic disaster of April 14, 1912. It is a dramatic rendering of the story of that disastrous maiden voyage, and of the parts played by passengers on the ship. The author has included in the novel an allegory about the passing of the Titans.

NIGHT OF THE POOR by Frederic Prokosch is an episodic novel describing the journey of a 17-year-old boy, hitch hiking his way from Wisconsin to Texas. Some of the time he is alone; sometimes he has for companions poverty-stricken wretches

TO STEP ASIDE by Noel Pierce Coward contains seven short stories by the English playwright. The tales are shrewd and clever, providing entertaining reading.

Other fiction: DANGER ON THE BORDER by Bechdolt, BLACK WINDS BLOW, Colby; STARS SPELL DEATH, Webb.

On the non-fiction list are FROM OFF ISLAND by Mrs. Dionis Coffin Riggs is the story of her grandmother, written in collaboration with Sidney Noyes Riggs. The story of an Irish girl, Mary Carlin from Australia, who married a young sea captain, James Cleaveland from Martha's Vineyard, supplies an interesting personal narrative and also a picture of the whaling industry nearly ninety years ago

DON'T KILL THE GOOSE by Rylha and Omar Goslin presents in simple words and pictures certain vital economic facts about our country. It shows what people earn, what they can buy with their money and the possible limits of production as well as the present amount of production.

Three new books on music are:

LIGHT AND ROMANTIC OPERA IN TALE AND TUNE arranged by Dorothy Gaynor Blake, which contains excerpts with song scores;

MUSIC edited by Chester Wallis, which contains a collection of piano pieces for the enjoyment of music in the home,

MUSIC edited by C Paul Herfurth, which contains music arranged for violin and piano.

The last two titles contain stories and biographical sketches of the composers, written by Laurence B Ellert.

Other non-fiction books; PROTESTANT CRUSADE 1800-1860 by Billington; HANDBOOK OF ORNAMENT; GEOMETRICAL AND FLORAL by Meyer, RISE OF THE AMERICAN FILM, Jacobs: THE WHITE STEED and COGGERERS, Carroll. PLANNING THE LITTLE HOUSE, Waugh; PUBLIC BUILDINGS by Short and Stanley-Brown (A survey of architecture of projects constructed by federal and other governmental bodies between the years 1933 and 1939 with the assistance of the Public Works Administration.)

RADIO TROUBLE-SHOOTER'S HANDBOOK, Ghirardi; MODERN BOAT BUILDING, Monk; DECORATIVE ART, 1940: THE STUDIO YEARBOOK; BIRDS OF THE WORLD, Federal Writers' Project.

Principal exports of Egypt include cotton, cotton-seed, sugar, cigarettes, onions, eggs, phosphates, rice and gum arabic, in that order.

PRE-NUPTIAL AFFAIRS HONOR BRIDES-ELECT

Friends Entertain for the Misses High, McLaughlin, Coffman and Yauger; Mrs. Willard Heiser Surprised With Shower.

AS THE WEDDING DAYS of many of Mansfield's brides-elect come closer and closer final pre-nuptial parties are given in their honor. Miss Ruth High, who will wed C. K. Dye at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the First Lutheran church, was honored at the last shower Thursday evening when the Misses Emma Witchey, Grace Ladd and Elizabeth Gruber gave a dessert-bridge at the Women's Club.

Guests were seated at a T-shaped table decorated with two large bowls of white daisies. Syringa reached from end to end through the centers of the tables, and the places of the guests were alternately marked with springling cans and tiny slippers holding miniature bouquets of syringa.

The hostesses presented Miss High with a corsage and a gift of fiesta ware. Bridge and hearts were played during the evening with prizes going to Mrs. C. G. Knarr, and the Misses Ruby Boyer, Virginia Dye and Naomi McGuire. These were presented to the honoree.

As a final note the bride was presented with a replica of a railroad ticket, and conducted on a miniature train for a trip to the various places that were famous for making or manufacturing of the articles which were among her shower gifts.

* * *

When members of the Soiree club met last night with Miss Marie Taylor, South Main street, they surprised one of their members, Miss Vivian McLaughlin, with a miscellaneous shower. Miss McLaughlin will become the bride of Gary Balliett at 7:30 p. m. at the First Lutheran church, June 26. The bride-elect was given a gift of furniture by her friends.

Games and hearts were played during the evening and prizes were presented to Miss Martha Flohr and Miss Catherine Hager. These were given to the honoree.

A two-course luncheon was served at a long table decorated with a centerpiece of larkspur, sweet peas and daisies surrounding a miniature pool in which a tiny china doll swam. Each place was marked with a small paper wedding bell bearing the guest's name.

Miss McLaughlin will entertain sometime in July at her home in Coolridge Heights following her marriage.

* * *

A surprise miscellaneous shower honored Mrs. Willard Heiser last night when Mrs. Donald Hart and Mrs. Howard McAllister entertained a group of ten friends at the Heiser home, 730 West Fourth street. Games and contests were the diversion of the evening, and refreshments were served at a long table decorated with a tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Heiser was Miss Hazel Hendershot before her recent marriage.

* * *

The home of Mrs. Colison Holmes on the Amoy-Pavonia road was the scene of another in the series of pre-nuptial parties for Miss Dorothy Yauger yesterday evening. Mrs. Earl Herrick and Mrs. Howard Yarnell were associate hostesses for the affair honoring the bride-elect of James Polatty of Columbia, S. C.

Bridge was the diversion at two tables, with score prizes going to Mrs. Russell Doehla and Miss Bettie Myers, who presented their awards to the honoree. The dessert course was served at small tables decorated with summer flowers and pink and white appointments. Miss Yauger discovered the hiding places of the miscellaneous shower gifts from directions contained in notes attached to a corsage. The hostesses presented her with a gift of crystal.

Miss Myers, Miss Betty Goddard and Mrs. Eugene Earick are planning to give a linen shower for Miss Yauger next Wednesday evening at the Earick home on Davis road.

* * *

Mrs. Tolbert Smith, Miss Gerry Locke, Miss Bette Anderson and Mrs. Robert Oberlin entertained with a miscellaneous shower for Miss Maxine Coffman yesterday evening at the Smith home on Marion avenue. Bridge was in play at four tables, and prizes were awarded to Miss Frances Ann Coffman, sister of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Charles McMullen.

The hostess gave a pantomime depicting important events in the honoree's life, and finally directed her to the hiding place of the shower gifts. She received a taffeta comfort from the hostesses. Refreshments were served at small tables after the games.

Miss Coffman will become the bride of Bernard Mahoney tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock before the altar of the First Methodist church. This evening, members of the bridal party will have a dinner party preceding rehearsal at the church.

* * *

FROLIC TONIGHT.

The Daytime camp frolic of the Y. W. C. A. will be held this evening at the Y. W. C. A. building with a program of games and singing. Morris Lee will speak to the girls on the American Indian. The program will start at 7:30 p. m.

Informally Speaking...

By MARIANNE

TOMORROW will be an exciting and important day for 125 young Mansfielders, as they will become members of the Rainbow Girls assembly, an organization being sponsored by Ruth chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. . . . Institution and initiation services will be conducted at John Simpson Junior high school, beginning at 2:30 p. m. George Clark, supreme deputy from Cleveland, will have charge of the institution, while members of the Newark Rainbow assembly conduct the initiation—with more than 50 of the latter group participating. . . . At 6 o'clock in the evening, Mrs. Ethel Rains and her committee of Ruth chapter members will serve a covered-dish dinner at the Masonic temple, and then in the evening, assembly officers will be installed at the junior high. . . . This ceremony will be open to the public, and 20 girls (who were chosen by the advisory board) will take office, with music being furnished by a choir, composed of 20 of the girls. . . . Incidentally, the board set the membership goal for this charter class at 100, and so they're more than pleased to have passed that mark.

These are happy days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Voegele, as their daughters are there visiting. . . . Mrs. Norman J. Larson (whom you probably remember better as Mildred) is here from Ada, Minn., while Jane, who is now Mrs. Paul Wile, and her husband have arrived from Davenport, Ia. . . . And by the way, they brought along their daughter, Nancy, who is just 15 months old.

* * *

HER Mansfield friends might begin looking for picture postcards from Kay Cole pretty soon, because I have her promise that she'll send some while on that trip west. . . . She and Eileen Davis (another teacher in the Loudonville public schools) left yesterday to drive to California. . . . They are going out by way of the southern route and then plan to spend some time in Los Angeles and San Francisco—of course taking in the Golden Gate expo at the latter city. . . . They'll travel up the coast to Washington and return in about a month via the northern route.

* * *

VACATION SPECIAL: Mrs. M. B. Gilbert and her two sons have been in New York City to see the sights this week. . . . While there, they were stopping at the New Weston hotel. . . . Mrs. C. R. Hein, who recently completed her teaching activities at Johnny Appleseed Junior high school, is in Bowling Green this week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Walker. . . . Oh yes, and did you know that the Heins recently moved into a new home on Chevy Chase road?

* * *

A CERTAIN GROUP of Mansfielders has high hopes and big plans for catching a goodly number of man-sized fish within the next several days. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Goodenough, their daughter, Doris, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Goodenough, are leaving tonight to drive about 450 miles to a spot near Traverse City, Mich., where they will vacation—and fish for perch, bass and trout.

* * *

Speaking of lakes, some Mansfield girls are going up to Ruggles beach on Lake Erie tomorrow for a week-end of swimming, sun-tanning and dancing. . . . Those in the party are Eileen and Marjorie Logan, Betty Hammel and Naomi Stutz. . . . Another school teacher, who will be out of town until September is Wilma Snider, who's serving as counselor at a girls' summer camp in Port Clinton, Mich. . . . Wilma, you know is the girls' physical education instructor at John Simpson Junior high school.

Activities of Social Clubs

Plans were made to entertain with a wedding anniversary party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hetler, Third avenue, yesterday when members of the Cotton Jugglers club met with Mrs. Mary Swetlick, 536 North Mulberry street. The party will be held Saturday evening.

Sewing followed the business meeting, and the hostess served refreshments at a long table decorated with garden flowers. Mrs. Hetler will be hostess for the next regular meeting which is scheduled for July 11.

* * *

Bridge was played last night when Miss Margaret Skeese, 492 West Fourth street, entertained members of the We-Ate club. Prizes were presented to Miss Marjorie Logan and Mrs. Jack Davis. Luncheon was served at the close of play. Activities of the club will be resumed the third week in September.

* * *

All members and two guests, Mrs. Lloyd Schindler, Upper Sandusky, and Mrs. Rupert Schindler, Findlay, of the Do-Be-There club met with Mrs. Harry Magee, Springmill street, Wednesday evening. Cards were played, and prizes won by Mrs. Harold Hedges and Mrs. Nick Blocher. Refreshments were served at a long table decorated with roses. The next meeting will be held July 10 with Mrs. Hedges, 201 East First street.

* * *

Ten members of the Atlas club met last evening at the home of Mrs. Daniel Reese, Columbia avenue. A social evening was enjoyed and at a late hour refreshments were served. The next meeting will be July 11 at the home of Mrs. Robert Gresmer, 116 West First street.

* * *

There were 10 members and one guest, Mary Holder, present at the meeting of the Get-Together club held yesterday with Mrs. Robert Haag, Concord avenue. Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Jennie Hostetter, Mrs. Charity Johnson and Mrs. Esther Schropp. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Schropp will entertain the group at her home on Belmont avenue July 9.

* * *

Members of the Octave club were the guests of Miss Dorothy Altaffer at Middle park last evening for a wiener roast. Later in the evening the group went to Scotty's on the Ashland road. Miss Ann Appleman will entertain the group with a theater party for the group.

* * *

Mrs. Della Cairns entertained 11 members of the Druscilla club at her home, 410 West Fifth street, yesterday noon with a chicken dinner in celebration of her birthday. The table was decorated with garden flowers and a birthday cake. Cootie was played, and each member was presented with a gift. The next meeting will be held July 18, but details were not announced.

* * *

Prizes were won by Mrs. Mildred Fackman and Mrs. Rebecca Offerlee yesterday when Mrs. Elaine Baker, Kohler street, entertained members of the Larkin Gaytime club with a kid party. Plans were made to have a picnic for the members at Middle park June 27 at 6 o'clock. The next regular meeting will be held July 18 at the home of Mrs. Fackman, 77 Stocking avenue.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph Dillon was elected president of the Jolly Times club yesterday when she entertained at her home, 643 West Third street. Mrs. Carl Daugherty was named secretary, Mrs. Earl Burns is treasurer and Mrs. Tony Brucato is chairman of the flower fund.

A new member, Mrs. John Kunz, was welcomed during the session. Plans were made to have a family picnic June 23, while the next regular meeting will be an event of July 12 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Stone, 643 West Third street.

* * *

Mrs. Raymond Mentzer, Mrs. Ira Dill, Mrs. Orva Lubold, Mrs. Earl Wentz and Miss Dorothy Miliron were guests at a meeting of the Happityme club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Glade Mentzer, south of Lexington. There were only 17 members in attendance.

Prizes in the contests were awarded to Mrs. Lelia Laribee and Mrs. Sadie Orewiler. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. The club's July meeting will be a picnic at South park with Mrs. Nettie Metzer in charge of arrangements.

* * *

Hearts were in play at two tables yesterday when Mrs. Harold White, Cline avenue, entertained L'Amici club. Mrs. Rebecca Sweval and Mrs. Robert White were guests. Prizes were won by Mrs. Earl Wilson and Mrs. Peter Marfia. Refreshments were served at a long table buffet style. Mrs. Joseph Mascioli was honored with a personal shower, and presented with a gift by the club.

The annual family picnic of the club will be held July 7 at Mohican state park, it was announced, and the regular activities will be resumed Sept. 5 when Mrs. Henry Chicolani entertains.

Gamma Chapter Holds Picnic at Middle Park

Members of Gamma chapter of Gamma Gamma Gamma sorority gathered at Middle park for a picnic supper at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening. Later the group adjourned to the Coliseum at North Lake park for a skating party. Arrangements were in charge of the Misses Jane Sowash, Marrianne Springer and Beverly Schwein.

Next Thursday evening, members of Beta chapter of the sorority will be hostesses to members of Gamma, Delta and Epsilon chapters for a picnic and business meeting at Middle park.

POSTPONE MEETING.

The picnic of the Earnest Workers class of the Park Avenue Baptist church which was scheduled for June 25 has been postponed indefinitely.

Simplicity Marks Nuptial Service Of Mansfielders

A quiet informal ceremony read yesterday at the parsonage of the First Congregational church at 3 o'clock united in marriage Miss Marilyn Jane Todd and Max Hobart Hackedorn. The bride was simply attired in an Alice blue lace street length frock with a white picture hat and other white accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses and blue bachelor buttons.

Miss Todd, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant B. Todd, 357 Marion avenue, is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. George DeYarmon. Mrs. DeYarmon was attired in a chartreuse gown, and wore a white picture hat and white accessories with a corsage of Talisman roses. Rev. Peter Young, pastor of the church, officiated.

Mr. Hackedorn, who lives at 770 West Fourth street, is the son of Mrs. Fred M. Bushnell, West Fourth street, and Hobart Hackedorn, 106 Sheridan avenue. He attended Mansfield Senior high school and the Cleveland Conservatory of Music. He is employed at the Ohio Fuel Gas company.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for a week's wedding trip. They will return to the city following tthe Fourth of July holiday.

Install Officers At Dinner Party

New officers of the Joan of Arc Study club were installed yesterday evening during the final meeting of that organization for the present club year. The affair was a 6:30 dinner party at the home of Mrs. Frank Loykovich, who was assisted by Mrs. James Kuneman. The dinner table was centered with a bouquet of summer garden flowers, and a yellow and orchid color scheme predominated.

Mrs. G. C. Wehinger took office as president of the group, to be assisted by Mrs. Dwight Maxwell as vice president. Mrs. Harry Kurrich is the new recording secretary, while Miss Mary Rizzo is the treasurer.

Bridge was in play at three tables during the social hour. Mrs. Kuneman, Mrs. Joseph Seibert and Mrs. Loykovich were recipients of the high score prizes. The group is planning to have a covered-dish dinner at North Lake park on the evening of July 18.

* * *

CLUB MEETS.

The Pilgrim Progressive Girls club met with Mary Dillon, R. D. 5, yesterday. The birthday of Eleanor Arndt was honored by the girls when they gave her a shower of gifts. Games and refreshments followed. Betty Wilz, Myers avenue, will be hostess for the next meeting.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES INCLUDE BANQUET

Outdoor Session Feature of St. Paul Thursday Nighters; Presbyterian Women Have Mother-Daughter Party; Circles Meet.

INTEREST in church work continues to occupy many Mansfielders as the summer season advances. Last night the St. Paul Thursday Nighters held their annual outing at the E. S. Nail farm. Supper was served at 6:30 p. m. with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morganstern, Mrs. Russell Hawk and Mrs. Betty Gerrell in charge.

Group prizes were awarded to members of the two teams who participated in games and contests. The next meeting will be held July 18 with Miss Olga Luich, Mrs. Peter Miller, Fritz Miller and Lawrence Chamberlain in charge.

There were 114 present at the mother-daughter banquet held last evening in the First Presbyterian church parlors at which Mrs. Herbert White, Columbus, appearing in native costume, spoke on Denmark. Dinner was served at 6:30 p. m. at long tables decorated with daisies and mock orange blossoms in small red wagons and lighted yellow tapers. Mrs. George Ingram was in charge of decorations.

Miss Janice Carter gave the prayer, after which Mrs. Paul Watts, accompanied by Miss Jean Hammond, led group singing. Mrs. William King, guild president, gave the address of welcome.

A toast to daughters was given by Mrs. Leah Larimer, and the toast to daughters was given by Miss Betty Wolff. The honor roll of service was then read by Mrs. D. N. Roller. Those honored were Mrs. Mary Diemer, Mrs. Mary J. Craig, Mrs. Flora Lewis, Mrs. Mary King, Mrs. Isabel Garret and Mrs. Florence Harding.

The six were presented with red roses by Joan McCombs and Mary Ann Lindley, and all the mothers were given corsages.

The next guild meeting will be held July 18 but plans have not been completed for the session.

* * *

Mrs. Andrew Heidinger, 248 Helen avenue, assisted by Mrs. E. E. Poole, entertained 100 members and one guest. Miss Betty Gorsuch, of Circle Five of the First Methodist church yesterday. Mrs. Fred Nixon led the devotions and read a story entitled "Holy Bread." The next meeting will be a picnic held July 18. Arrangements for the affair, details of which will be announced later, are in charge of Mrs. Charles Benedict, Mrs. Harold Gorsuch and Mrs. Paul Bush.

* * *

Mrs. J. C. Arbaugh was hostess for a meeting of Circle Three of the First Methodist church yesterday afternoon at her home, 174 Lexington avenue. Mrs. C. D. Horner gave the devotional readings, and refreshments were served to the eight members and one guest at the close of a business and social hour. Mrs. Glenn Arbaugh has invited the group to her home in South Boulevards for a picnic on July 18.

HOSTESS TO GROUP.

There were 15 members of the Women's auxiliary of the Grace Episcopal church present for a meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry G. Picot in the Whitehall apartments, 359 Park avenue west, yesterday afternoon. A buffet luncheon was served following the transaction of routine business. On July 18 the group will have a picnic at the home of Mrs. O. O. Brenner on West Fourth street.

High-Test Oxydol can offer astonishing results because it contains a new SAFE ingredient—and does these amazing things:

First: Gets white clothes as much as 9 to 11 shades whiter than a large number of popular soaps. Actual Tintometer shades, shown by our laboratory tests.

Second: Cup for cup, gives up to three times the suds. Rich, energetic suds that stand up as much as 2 to 3 times longer.

Third: Yet is SAFE for washable colors and fabrics. So safe, that even cotton prints given the equivalent of more than a full year's washing—came out looking bright as new. And Oxydol's safer for hands than a whole group of popular washday soaps.

In tub washing—High-Test Oxydol sucks out dirt in 10 minutes! No scrubbing, no boiling—just a good douse, rinse, and you're through! Even grimy spots come clean with a few quick rubs.

In washing machines—High-Test Oxydol is so remarkable that a number of leading washing machine makers now officially recommend it—for white, bright washes in washers old or new.

High-Test Oxydol can save money, too. Penny for penny, it goes so much farther than less economical soaps—it can cut laundry soap bills as much as one-fourth!

So, no matter what package soap you've been using, try new High-Test OXYDOL—and see for yourself. Get a large package today—while you can get TWO giant-size bars of new, improved P and G White Naphtha Soap for only 1¢ more. Procter & Gamble.

Present Gifts During Rehearsal Party

Following the wedding rehearsal a party was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stingel honoring Miss Ilo Rinehart and Robert Burger. Miss Rinehart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Rinehart, Galion-Mansfield road, and Mr. Burger, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Burger, Ontario, will be married June 22 at 9:30 a. m. at the Ontario Community church.

Rev. E. H. Thompson will officiate. Miss Rinehart will have her sister, Alice, as maid of honor, and Robert Walker will attend Mr. Burger as best man. The couple presented their attendants with gifts, and Mr. and Mrs. Stingel gave the bethrothed pair their wedding gift.

PLAN PICNIC.

Seventeen members and one guest were in attendance at a meeting of the Welfare club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. G. Hart, 566 South Diamond street. The group sewed on quilts and quilt patches, and the hostess served light refreshments. Mrs. Frank Riel will have charge of a club picnic to be held at North Lake park July 11.

* * *

A handkerchief shower honored Mrs. Michael Cosgrove who leaves soon for an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Roundtree, former Mansfielders now living in Florida, when the Pal club met yesterday with Mrs. P. E. Swihart, 65 Superior street. Mrs. Louis Wipparina, who is leaving soon for a tour of the Smokey mountains, was similarly honored Prizes were given to Mrs E. F. Rein and Mrs. Cosgrove. Luncheon was served at the close of the session. Guests were Mrs. Nelson Swihart and Mrs. Martin Biddle.

Concealing Girl's Age Silliness

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

If this age of freedom—yes, I know humorists call it "spreedom"—does nothing more for daughters still in the home, it has at least helped to free them from the tyranny of mother who won't let them grow up.

That strange form of peonage has not yet become wholly extinct, but it doesn't flourish to the extent it did a few years ago Jobs for daughters have helped enormously, and mothers who just wouldn't let their daughters grow up have begun to realize they are funny-paper types.

Onlookers have never accused women, who kept their grown daughters in the curtsy-and-pinafore-stage, of being guilty of anything worse than silliness and vanity. In fighting off daughter's age, we recognized with a wryly humorous smile that mother was fighting desperately for her own youth.

So daughter, if she was the acquiescent type, had to stick at being a near-child. She couldn't have a boy friend, because mother wouldn't admit the daughter was of marriageable age. Some of these girls kept in cold storage by mother's eternal vigilance never grew up or became old enough to marry. In time, they actually grew to look older than their mothers. Kept in a state of perpetual adolescence they never became independent persons on their own. They sat around, looking blighted, and not speaking until they were spoken to.

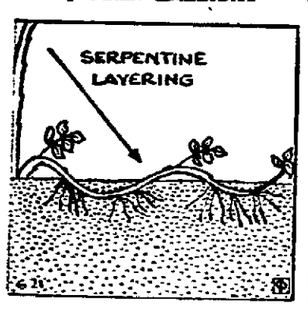
Again, "kept-down" daughters proved themselves to be chips off the old block by taking the bit in their teeth and bolting. The marriages they made under these circumstances were seldom desirable. They married men they picked up on the street, or bill collectors who came to the house on unwelcome errands, or one of the brotherhood who calls up the dumb-waiter or comes to the back alley gate. If mother had to take in the eloping pair and support them, the feeling was pretty general that she got only what she deserved.

That dogged type of female, whose every word and deed was marshalled against the flight of time, is gradually being weeded out by our more modern way of looking at things. It's grand to be young. It's grander to look young But the women who count for something today represent more than an embalmed type of youth. They have gray matter under their permanents, and the permanents are frequently gray — even snowy.

I've often wondered whether that lovely "moon sheen" hair is natural, or the result of bleaching. The pink cheeks and starry eyes that so often go with it have such a dewy freshness. That type of woman is too clever to keep her daughters in obvious quarantine. They just let the girls round up the beaux and then cut them out.

Garden Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY



Serpentine Layering.

Propagating new plants by the layering method can be done easily by any amateur gardener. Serpentine layering is a method frequently used with vine-like plants such as climbing roses, honeysuckle, wisteria, climatis and English ivy.

As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, serpentine layering consists of bending a branch from a growing plant in a series of curves in and out of the ground One node of the branch should be placed underground, while the next node is left out of the ground on the upper curve of the serpentine Remove the leaves from the nodes placed underground, for this will hasten the formation of new roots Cover the buried sections of the serpentine with about three inches of soil.

The soil used for layering should be friable. The addition of some sand and leafmold or peat to an ordinary garden soil will make it easier for the new roots to take hold. Plants which are being layered should be kept moist. After the buried sections have developed roots, they can be severed from one another and treated as new plants.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"Thanks for your advice to the kids anyway," she said. "But what I'm singing hymns of praise over, is the complete flattening out—deflating. I guess is a good word—of our sweet princess Olina. If ever a gal got her come-uppance, that one did. Well, her fangs are drawn She can't make any more mischief"

"I can see by my spouse's eye that she doesn't approve of your choice of words," Dicky gibed. "She thinks 'fangs' is a croo-el word. Couldn't you use 'kitten claws' or something like that?"

"I'll use some claws on your map that you'll remember in another minute," she threatened "I said 'fangs' and I meant 'fangs.' She's been doubling for a cobra around these diggings just long enough. Where is she now, by the way?"

"She went to her own room to lie down." I told her with a memory of Olina's unhappy face that tugged at my sympathies. "And—I don't believe that there's as much harm in her as you think. She's been terribly bored here, and—"

"Was that any reason for her to raise 70 and seven different varieties of the hot place?" Lillian demanded. But her question remained unanswered. It was punctuated by a rap on the door. Dicky, nearest the door answered it, and we saw Miss Whitlock standing on the threshold.

"Your father would like to see you all in his room," she announced.

"Noel and me, too?" Mary queried.

"He asked for you two especially," the nurse replied as she hurried away, and Mary looked at us with a puzzled expression.

"Well! what do you know about that, Noel?" she demanded. "We must be getting older. We haven't been asked to conferences with the Big Chief that I remember."

Any one of us could have enlightened her as to the reason for her summons and Noel's to my father's room. But we all kept silence, not only from the discipline imposed by my father, which leaves in his hands the announcement of any plan, but from a reluctance to let either of them know before it was necessary of the fiendish proposal of Jack Leslie to exchange Queen Olga's missing emeralds for the possession of their persons.

"You're asked now, it's clear," Dicky said, "and I should advise you to make tracks for the Chief's room, allee samee the rest of us. He doesn't like to be kept waiting."

We all went out of the room together, and down the hall to my father's room. Miss Whitlock admitted us, and then quietly effaced herself, speaking softly to me as she passed me.

"I'll just go down and look in on Miss Fairfax," she said. "I'll be there if you want me for anything. And—when this is over,' I'd like to talk to you about her."

"At anytime." I told her, but my look after her was a worried one. The nurse did not take up one's time lightly, and I wondered if anything were seriously wrong with Edith, and I began to worry lest I had neglected her.

"Snap out of it!" Lillian advised me. "Your father's looking at you, and it isn't on the free list for you to be worrying about la Fairfax when the Chief's getting ready to broadcast. It's probably nothing but her ingrowing disposition at that"

I grinned in spite of myself at her nonsense, and moved with her to a semicircle of chairs which faced my father.

"Sit down," my father said, and then, with a fleeting glance at Mary and Noel he spoke to Harry Underwood.

"Are those men you brought from the city ready for inspection?" he asked.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, June 22.

The predominant planetary configurations point to this as a day in which very important and progressive objectives may be attained by sound judgment, keen analysis of frustrating factors, prudence, foresight, conservatism and thrift. With astuteness, precaution, well-directed effort in practical lines and with real constructive plans carefully systematized, there should be some sort of achievement of major importance. This is financial, business, political as well as social or professional activities. Any of these ambitions may be jeopardized by extravagance, financial carelessness or subtle intrigue or duplicity. Be vigilant, self-contained and discreet, safeguarding funds.

If it's Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is are at the brink of a year of really great opportunity, with a very definite march upon ambitious goals if they will but modify their own tactics and behavior to meet certain impediments or treachery. Very significant openings in both the business and private life are imminent. But it will take sagacity, vigilance, wise manipulation of funds and credit to circumvent fraud, snares, and pitfalls of subtle and sinister character. Be alert to intrigues, tricks, and be cautious with loans and signatures. Avoid extravagance.

A child born on this day may have much talent and capacity for success "in a big way" despite certain undermining forces and factors for defeat. Its extravagant and showy tendencies and want of precaution may make it readily victimized.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

STOPPERS VS. LOSERS

WHEN counting up the tricks you intend to seek for a game in No Trump, it is important to bear in mind the number of stoppers in the opponents' suit, especially if one of them has been knocked out by the opening lead. With only one remaining, you can afford to lose the lead only once before the opponents' suit is set up. With two left, you can lose two tricks before their suit is established. Losing one more than these numbers, in either case, means that the enemy will get the lead again when it has one or more long cards set up in its suit. Your only hope, then, is to keep the one with the remainders out of the lead, letting only his partner in—a good stunt if you can do it.

Bidding varied widely on this deal. In one case, after South's 1-Heart, North called 2-No Trumps and South 3-No Trumps. In another North responded to the opener with 2-Diamonds, South bid 3-Diamonds and North 3-No Trumps At a fourth North answered with 2-Clubs and South then bid 2-No Trumps, North 3-No Trumps Where North was declarer, making the contract was a cinch because East led a club.

One declarer in the South managed to get set after a lead of the spade 4, He won with the dummy's K, led the heart J to the A, took the returned spade with the Q, then went after diamonds. Seeing three tricks in spades, four in hearts, he decided two diamond tricks would fix him up. But West ducked the first diamond, letting East win, and the latter fired back his last spade to the A.

When South now led diamonds a second time West won with the A and cashed his spade thirteener, following with a club to the A and setting the contract. The other South declarers made contract because instead of diamonds they went for clubs, in which the lead would be lost only once if the queen was caught.

DAYTIME CAMP PLANNED AGAIN BY GIRL SCOUTS

Outdoor Activities To Be Started July 9 on South Diamond Site.

Mansfield Girl Scouts will have their second daytime camp this summer with the old Fresh Air camp on South Diamond street extension serving as a camp site.

It will open Thursday, July 9 and will operate on Tuesdays and Thursdays through July 25, from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

The out-door scouting program will be the foundation for the camp activities. Girls will be divided into units according to ages, and the program of each unit will be based on the interests of the girls in that group.

The program will include nature lore, arts and crafts, hiking, outdoor cooking, games, singing, folk dancing, dramatics and pioneering. A staff of instructors will be under the direction of Miss Eleanor Bond, director of the Mansfield Girl Scout Council.

Girls will be permitted to wear shorts or camp suits. They will bring their lunches with them in the morning and the council will provide milk.

Registrations for the camp are being taken at Girl Scout headquarters, 702 Farmers Bank building. The camp committee is made up of Mrs. J. C. Gorman, chairman; Mrs. Louis Lamoreaux, Mrs. Stanley Richardson and Mrs. Carl Gibson.

BUTTONS SAVED.

SAN JOSE, Cal. —(AP)— Alfred Frank was disgusted because when his shirts came back from the laundry the buttons always seemed to be missing. So he decided to wash them himself. He put the shirts in a pan of water, placed it on a stove and went out to shop. When he returned, he had buttons but no shirts. The fire department saved the house.

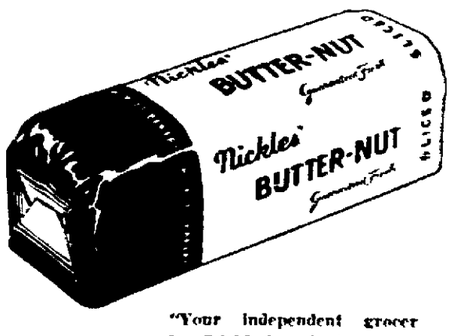
. . . but everybody knows happy meals help make happy marriages. And stories about a bride's biscuits aren't funny . . . to HER! Remember, bread is always the foundation food. Even the best meats, salads and vegetables taste flat and uninteresting, unless the bread is of the same high quality. Yes, good bread is a secret of delightful meals. So, don't buy bread indifferently, my dear. Never overlook the importance of serving a fine bread, such as Better Baked BUTTER-NUT. It's been my favorite for years. All our friends prefer it. And I'm positive you will, too — especially when you see how BUTTER-NUT Bread stays oven-fresh until the last delicious slice disappears behind HIS great, big smile!"

Nickles' BUTTER-NUT BREAD



"Your independent grocer has Nickles' products, or you can get them from the friendly Nickles salesman on the red and white truck."

BETTER BAKED because . . .

1 Ingredients laboratory tested.
2 Baked slowly in controlled ovens.
3 Recipe balanced nutritionally.
4 Blended for distinctive flavor.
5 Cooled gradually in conditioned air.
6 Oven freshness preserved by "heat-sealed" wrapper.

CERTIFIES 18 FOR CITY JOBS

Civil Service Commission Supplies Eligible Men For Two Departments.

The civil service commission today had prepared an eligible list of waterworks pumpmen, draftsmen, and rodmen from applicants who successfully passed recent examinations conducted for the positions.

The list, announced by Atty. James V. Will, commission secretary, included 12 pumpmen, four draftsman and two rodmen. A total of 20 applicants participated in the examinations held in March.

Those who attained a grade of better than 70 in the tests conducted for pumpmen were Alexander Powell, John L. Borman, R. Camp Seltzer, M. E. Barrett, Virgil Hageman, William H. Crowel, James D. Phillips, Henry K. Boughton, Clair L. Mauk, Ovid Ropp, Harold M. Cole, Anthony Colace.

Successful candidaes in the exams for draftsman were Richard R. Stander, August C. Schroeder, Homer M. Brust, C. W. Lutts.

Eligible rodmen were William I. Moorman and Joseph D. Dunn.

The eligible lists were prepared for supplying city officials with certifications from which vacancies in the waterworks and engineering departments can be filled.

FOREST FURY

CHAPTER VI

"Foot up—then swing," Bob held a hand to assist Rosemary, who was almost too little and short to reach the high stirrup, for hers was a big animal. With Bob's aid she swung gracefully on, took the reins and reached to pat her mount's shoulder. Bob slipped on to his own saddle.

"Okay?" he asked then. And of one accord the two turned to Monty.

Monty had gotten a saddle on his horse's back and was tightening the cinch, but——

"Sa-a-a-ay, for pete's sake, man!" Bob growled at him suddenly.. "Aren't you going to use a blanket?"

Monty stared at him. "Blanket?" he questioned back .

"Yeah. Blanket. Saddle blanket." Bob slowly began to grin. "My lord, how old are you? Can't you even saddle a horse?"

Dr. Montgomery turned crimson. Bob's contempt for him was almost tangible, and the acute embarrassment that Monty showed was somehow shared with him by Rosemary.

* * *

Miss Sue McKee was one of those erect and wholesome individuals whom the artist calls statuesque, the physician calls perfect, and the romanticist calls divine. A fourth observer might add that Sue was a quiet-mannered person not given to much talk or too much confiding; she enjoyed company but she could also roam in the forest alone for hours and call it fun. Doubtless her environment aided her heritage in making her beautiful.

Sue's black hair was a glory in itself. Her blue eyes were a startling blond contradiction.

The hair, bobbed long, waved back and downward, or tangled gloriously when she sped horseback against a mountain breeze. Lashes were thick and dark, too, hence emphasized the blue of her eyes and formed further complement for her skin, which was an exquisite tan. It was a soft American tan, not the dark hue of the Italians or the semi-Indian shading of the Mexican senoritas, but the Caucasian suntan And her cheeks, not apple-red like Rosemary Taylor's, nevertheless were tinted a rich rusty pink. Full yet delicate lips held the same shade intensified into a bold temptation.

Mr. Bob King, forest ranger, had appraised all these fine points months ago when he first met his boss's daughter. His first impulse was to take Sue at surface value. He had seen her as infinitely desirable and so had proposed marriage to her the first night, less than an hour after they had met at a schoolhouse dance. Sue had just laughed at him.

In a little while Bob had come to his senses and realized that Sue was, after all, a girl in a million. If she had fallen for him so quickly he couldn't have respected her much, he realized. He would have to prepare a long, careful campaign. Meantime, too, was the salient fact that she really was the daughter of his boss. A man can't be too headlong in such a circumstance. Wooing Sue would have to be gradual, and tactful.

* * *

But gradual, tactful movement were foreign to Bob King's way. After a month or so his ardor had cooled somewhat from sheer frustration, even though he did call on Sue rather regularly as a matter of pleasureable routine. They had not discussed love or talked intimately at all again. They had just gradually slipped into a sort of close friendship, which perhaps was just as well, Bob told himself. It would enable him to maintain a cool head.

But from Sue's viewpoint, Fate had decided to have a nasty laugh. Having been somewhat affronted by Bob at first, Sue had come to admit him greatly as the months slipped by. Loneliness in the forest setting may have helped. And the fact that Bob proved to be highly capable as a forest man, which made him "solid" with her father and mother. He was honest, and earnest, a gentleman for all his boyish enthusiasm. Such a type is not too easy to find. Sue's admiration for him had definitely grown. She herself had not realized just how much—until the lovely, petite New Yorker had come along.

At first Sue viewed Rosemary with definite if unadmitted alarm. Rosemary was too pretty and sweet! And there is the old story of "the new girl" coming along to dazzle one's steady boy friends.

Certainly Rosemary held enough of newness and foreign sparkle to attract any western man. However, she soon observed that Rosemary held Bob carefully at arm's length. Bob's gaiety was matched, and for his kindness he was shown gratitude, but he made no swift conquest if that was what he hoped for. Sue realized that, for her part, patience was golden.

Another consideration was that Sue definitely liked Rosemary herself. If this seemed to complicate heart matters a little, so be it. Sue was a good sport. Rosemary was making no play for Bob; Bob was doing all the wooing, if wooing it could be called. Rosemary was an open-mannered gentlewoman bringing to the western wilderness a breath of the urban East.

"You've got something we lack out here, Rosemary," Sue had told her, and meant it. "Big city talk and big city ways. We get hungry for it. And you don't act the least bit 'superior,' as a lot of tourists do."

"Thanks, honey," Rosemary countered. "You're pretty sweet yourself. The pick of the state, people tell me."

Each had a million questions, more or less, to ask the other. Within twenty-four hours after meeting, they had enjoyed a grand talk In two days, they had become rather thoroughly acquainted. In a week, they were intimate friends. About the only thing Sue did not confide was that Bob King had made love to her.

"Surely you have at least heard of a saddle blanket, so what did you imagine it might be for?"

Bob King looked at the city man with both contempt and amusement.

"Why—ah, the fact is—" Dr. Montgomery swallowed, hard.

"Whew!" Bob breathed. "These Phi Beta Kappas!"

The professor did indeed have a Phi Beta Kappa key dangling from the watch chain at his belt, signifying his membership in the national fraternity. It represented the highest honor a scholar can attain, and he had been justifiably proud of it.

Now, though, he looked down at it as if himself discovering it for the first time. He looked confusedly back at Bob, then at Rosemary, and felt the pink sting of embarrassment creeping up his neck. Bob, grinning broadly, was enjoying the situation tremendously. He had a dude squirming.

In point of fact, Bob wasn't intentionally being rude, in the extreme sense. In his realm men could give and take in the business of razzing and growling at one another, and seldom was any embarrassment or resentment felt. But nobody in all his career had ever growled at Archibald Montgomery or otherwise belittled him. All his life and interest had been in an atmosphere which the world calls refined.

Roosevelt Asks $22,590,000 to Train Defense Workers

HILLMAN PLAN NEARLY READY FOR CONGRESS

Representatives Balk at CIO Leadership of Youth Instruction.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt asked congress today to provide $22,590,000 for the prompt training of skilled and semi-skilled workers needed in industries vital to the national defense program.

The recommendation went to a senate appropriations sub-committee at a moment when critical legislative comment was being directed at the labor and employment chief of the national defense defense commission.

Hillman, president of the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, would direct a major part of the youth defense training program tentatively advanced by President Roosevelt, and it was the prospect of his serving in this capacity which aroused some house members.

"God alone can save this country," Rep. Cox (D.-Ga.) exclaimed yesterday in the house, if Hillman takes over tthe compulsory training of 2,000,000 young men and women annually.

Cox's opinion was seconded by Rep. Woodrum (D.-Va), a ranking member of the appropriations committee. He predicted that any youth training program would have difficulty getting through congress because of the fact "that Mr. Hillman has been selected to head it up."

Hillman, meanwhile, announced that he expected to have ready in a few days a "complete program" for the instruction of skilled workers. He said vocational schools, the national youth administration, the CCC and private industry figured in the plans, and intimated that some training of a military character might be involved.

Another potential source of controversy to come to the fore yesterday was the comprehensive draft bill introduced by Senator Burke (D.-Neb.)

Terming the nation "gravely threatened," the bill would have all men between 18 and 65—approximately 40,000,000—register for possible military service. Those between 21 and 45 could be called for duty with the armed services in numbers to be determined by the president, with the eventual objective an army 4,000,000 strong in regulars and reserves.

Introduction of the draft bill coincided with the war department's disclosure of plans to call about 9,000 reserve officers to active duty in line with the current army expansion.

Additional thousands, it was said, would be ordered up to handle the further manpower increase expected.

The $1,777,489 emergency defense bill—last of Mr. Roosevelt's major requests—was voted by the senate, and sent back to the house for concurrence in some changes.

Killer of Three Men Faces Death In Electric Chair

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — (INS) — Found guilty of first degree murder without a mercy recommendation, William Sevastis, 51, a Martins Ferry waiter who shot and killed three men in a cafe last May 5, today faced a sentence of death in the electric chair.

Sevastis was convicted by a three-judge court of the murder of Mike Manos, his employer, and will be sentenced July 3. The slayer surrendered meekly after killing Manos, Gus Gramatskis, 50, father of four children, and John Levanis, 39.

Basing his defense on a plea of instantly, Sevastis called to the stand physicians who testified that he suffered a certain degree of mental abnormality at the time of the crime due to anger and alcoholism, but that he was sane before and afterward.

Ohio Republicans Claim Ballot Advantage

Up and Down THE STREET

The executive committee of the Richland county fair board meeting at the Southern hotel last night went in for a little "kibitzing." Hurrying their meeting so they could get to a radio to hear the Lewis-Godoy fight, the members were somewhat surprised when a guest in an adjoining room turned on his radio and tuned in the blow by blow description. Without comment the meeting "died" while members followed the championship bout through the transom.

With the arrival of summer today, Patrolman D. H. Cole of the Mansfield highway patrol station, is beginning to wonder how much longer he is going to have to wear his gray winter shirts, while other officers at the station are wearing their dark blue summer shirts, and not having to mind the heat. The four other officers at the station received their summer shirts early in the spring and have been wearing them for some time, while Cole is still wearing his gray winter attire. His never arrived.

A troop of Girl Scouts has just completed a project and have given the results to the Visiting Nurses. It is a baby basket, complete with sheets and blankets and a full layette. Every piece of it was made by the girls under the direction of their leader, Mrs. Richard Fensch. The outfit has been turned over to the Visiting Nurses and when it is presented to some baby, Girl Scouts will accompany the nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bernhardt, 303 High street, are putting in their claim to being Mansfield's largest family today after the birth of their 15th child at the family home. All of the Bernhardt children are living, and 11 of them are at home. There are nine girls and a new son, born this morning, was the sixth boy. Five of the children are of school age. The father is a barber.

RATES HIGHER

Perrysville Phone Charges To Be Up 50 Cents to $1.

The Farmers' Telephone company of Perrysville was authorized today by the Ohio Public Utilities commission to establish optional full-metallic service and increase its rates slightly for the service.

The increase will be 50 cents a month for residence telephones and $1 a month for business establishments. The increase, however, will be effective only where the new service is provided.

Company officials explained that the action was prompted by interference with telephone lines by rural electrification lines in the community. The telephone firm operates exchanges in Perrysville and Jeromesville in Ashland county.

Clarence Luft New President of Mansfield Camera Fans.

Clarence Luft was elected president of the Mansfield Photographic society at a meeting of that group at the Y. M. C. A. last night. He succeeds Al Strachan.

Other officers chosen are Giles Hamilton, vice president; Horace Albers, secretary; C. J. Kalbfleisch, treasurer, and T. J. McDermott, counsel.

The group voted to hold meetings in the future on the first and third Tuesday of each month at 8 p. m. in the Vercoe and company offices in the Farmers bank building.

MOVIES SHOWN

'Ohio's Good Earth and State Fair' On Kiwanis Program.

A technicolor motion picture, "Ohio's Good Earth and State Fair," was shown members of the Kiwanis club at their weekly luncheon meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel yesterday.

The pictures were shown by the Standard Oil company and depicted agricultural conditions in Ohio. Arthur Bush was program chairman.

START WORK ON NEW WATER LINE

Crafton Says 100 To Be at Work on Main Extensions on Bowman Street.

Construction of a new high capacity water main on Bowman street between West Fourth and West Sixth streets will be started Monday, Service-Safety Director C. H. Crafton announced today.

The line will be installed at the cost of $15,000 as a part of $65,000 main extension program planned for this year. Extension of the Lexington avenue main is expected to be made this fall at a cost of $50,000.

The Bowman street project will be started by WPA workmen at West Sixth street and will progress south toward Fourth street. The job, a stopgap project until the state highway is ready to begin repaving West Fourth street, will take about 30 days to complete and will employ approximately 100 workers.

It includes construction of 1,200 feet of 12-inch main that will link the new line on West Fourth street with the north side.

During construction at the intersection of West Sixth and Bowman street, West Sixth street will be closed to traffic but Bowman street will remain open, City Engineer W. C. Statler said.

He added that the water supply on West Sixth street between Bowman and Sycamore streets would probably be shut off Tuesday while valve connections were being made.

DEWEY PLANS RADIO ATTACK

Will Hit Knox, Stimson Move In Speech Tonight.

NEW YORK—(INS)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey will carry before the electorate tonight in a radio address his condemnation of President Roosevelt's appointments of Col. Henry L. Stimson and Col. Frank Knox to the cabinet.

Dewey, a leading candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, in a preliminary statement said the appointments had "the gravest implications for the nation's future" and could be interpreted "only as a direct step towards war."

McGREGOR SAYS 17TH DISTRICT AGAINST ENTERING CONFLICT

His constituents in the 17th congressional district of which Mansfield is a part, do not want their manpower used in a European conflict nor do they approve of giving to the president the sole power to decide the momentous question of entering a war, Congressman J. Harry McGregor told members of the house this week in Washington.

McGregor said that from communications received from residents in this district, he was convinced that however great their sympathies for France and Great Britain might be, "They do not approve the idea that President Roosevelt should be invested with authority to plunge the United States into that conflict."

"We don't want war," he said on the house floor, "We want to lead our own life and attain our national destiny without foreign aggression or involvement. Neither do we covet alliances with foreign nations. Neither do we propose to be the victim of foreign aggression or conquest. We don't want a mile of foreign territory, but by the same token we won't give up a single inch of American territory to any aggressor on the face of the earth."

The constitution, he pointed out, gives Congress the sole power to declare war, "but the chief executive, so disposed, is in a position to make a dangerous approach to such a declaration, as was done by the president at Cherlottesville, Va., a few days ago."

"The president," he continued, "has requested for himself nearly all of the perogatives of congress, short of actually declaring war, and has already asked for the authority to mobilize the National Guard of the states, and the Army and Navy reserves—and then would have congress adjourn immediately.

"I am of the firm conviction," McGregor told house members, "that with the European situation as it now is, and as it is likely to be during the next few weeks, it is important that every congressman stay on the job, through the entire summer if necessary, instead of leaving one man in charge. It is my firm conviction that it is the duty of congress to remain in session during this crisis, and that any other course would be a serious neglect of the nation's vital interests."

McGregor, a Republican, is filling out the unexpired term of the late Congressman William A. Ashbrook, Democrat, who died last Jan. 1. He was elected at a special election last February.

MASONS FROLIC

27th Annual Picnic Held at South Park Today.

Several hundred Mansfield Masons were expected to attend the 27th annual Mystic club picnic this afternon at South park.

A picnic dinner was served beginning at 12 noon, and the afternoon was spent in playing cards, horseshoe pitching, softball and other games.

Arrangements for the event are in charge of a committee comprised of Mystic club directors.

LEGISLATORS BELIEVE SPLIT TICKET HELPS

Special Session Closes With Relief Measures For State Passed.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—Republican legislators left the state capital today confident that they had gained political advantage by accomplishments of the four-day special session of the general assembly.

As the G. O. P. members scattered to their homes or headed for the opening of the party national convention at Philadelphia after the adjournment of the legislature they checked up as election year assets.

1. The ballot separation act which they hope insulates the G. O. P. state and local tickets against defeat in the event of a a Democratic presidential landslide this fall.

2. Appropriation of $2,000,000 in state and federal funds to put between 14,000 and 17,000 eligible applicants on the old age pension rolls.

3. Appropriation of an additional $1,460,000 for poor relief, together with a $333,333 "cushion" fund for loans to local committees to prevent embarrassing relief "crises."

4. Increase in the old age pension maximum from $30 to $40 monthly as of next January 1.

On the last point Democrats left a warning that the pension increase would become known as a "bill of deception" inasmuch as it does not become operative until next year and does not guarantee pension increases, but merely raises the maximum that can be paid.

State Pension Director Tom McCaw estimated that with present budgetary standards only about 15 per cent of pensioners now on the rolls would get increases. He figured that the extra cost to the state, barring budgetary changes, would be about $2,500,000.

PHYSICIAN DIES

Dr. C. J. Marquette Practiced In Nova 40 Years.

NOVA—Dr. Charles J. Marquette, 69, practicing physician here for 40 years, died yesterday afternoon at his home following a lingering illness. He had been active in profession until he became ill.

Born Feb. 27, 1871 in Medina county, Dr. Marquette was formerly surgeon at St. Vincent's hospital in Cleveland, where he also served his internship. He received his M. D. degree in 1897 from Western Reserve university.

Surviving are his wife Mary Kelsey Marquette; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Curtis of Cleveland; a son, Elwyn of New York City; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Hathaway of Mt. Dora, Fla., and Mrs. Jesse Green of Lakewood, and a brother, Norman J. Marquette of Sullivan.

Private funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the family home here with Rev. S. E. Kaetzel, pastor of the Nova Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Baker's Crossing cemetery near here.

28 ENROLL FOR STATE 'Y' CAMP

Y. M. C. A. Outing For Mansfield To Open July 2.

Twenty-eight Mansfield boys have already registered for the annual Y. M. C. A. summer camp which opens July 2 at Camp Nelson Dodd near Brinkhaven.

Mansfield's quota has been set at 35, leaving seven vacancies yet to be filled, according to Ralph B. Chapman, general secretary. No registrations will be accepted after the quota has been filled, Chapman said.

The period for Mansfield boys opens July 2 and continues through July 16. First period of camp opened last Sunday and will close June 30.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

You Meet Such Interesting People.
(And It's the Little Things You Remember.)

Hedy Lamarr, who likes to buy her own groceries, sometimes goes marketing in shorts. . . . Playwright Moss Hart confesses he knows nothing about music, technically, but he's a perfect guinea pig for a new tune. His car is a barometer of what the "man in the street" will like in the way of love ballads and jive. Irving Berlin and Cole Porter both say Hart can spot a hit tune when they can't. . . .

Clifford Odets wears glasses and looks glum. . . . When Mitzi Green does her impersonation of Luise Rrainer impersonating Anna Held in the telephone scene from the "Great Ziegfeld," she really cries. Sometimes, she even cries when it's all over. . . .

Of all the glamor boys, Clark Gable has the greatest sense of humor about his glamor; at Hollywood parties he's a sensation when he makes his teeth disappear, pulls out his ears, and achieves frightful funny faces. . . . Jinx Falkenburg, one of the beauties in the new Jolson-Hale show, has her car driven by a pretty girl chauffeur.

Robert Benchley is such a kind critic—at least, until he gets to his typewriter. He has never subscribed to the theory that for a critic to laugh is a violation to The Code, and I've never seen him sneer at an actor from his aisle seat; in fact, if you watch him, you think the play is much better than it really is.

No one looks better in red hair than Nancy Carroll. . . . Bobby Day, the orchestra leader, probably is the only maestro in the country who isn't out to make a million dollars—because he already has a million.

* * *

When he was practically broke and famous as a wit only to a small portion of the Sardi set, Oscar Levant used to spend almost all his money on psychiatrists. For days on end, he'd go from one to another, getting himself psychoanalyzed, and it was terrifically expensive.

Now that Oscar's a success, and famous, he can really afford to go to a psychoanalyst a day. But now that he's successful and famous—he doesn't need to!

Elsa Lanchester and Charles Laughton are the most picturesque and unique-looking couple I've ever seen out together. . . . Jim Tully, who has a head like an orange crysanthemum, and body like a chopping block, and a sweet, husky voice, is my idea of a conversational spellbinder. He's one of the few personages allowed in 21 or the Stork club without a tie.

When Diosa Costello's beaux ask her what she'll have to drink she usually says "vegetable soup."

* * *

Lucius Beebe's shirts are like chic checker boards. . . . Gypsy Rose Lee is the Dorothy Parker of the strip-teasers. She can get off her clothes or a snappy answer with equal rapidity. . . .

Ernst Lubitsch retains that Lubitsch touch in his personality; he twinkles with charm, and has a way of making a girl feel he's mistaken her for Marlene Dietrich. . . . Jack Lawrence, the song-writer, sketches lyrics on tablecloths and then asks the waiter for paper so he can copy them off and sell them.

Al Vanderbilt used to be seen only in the most silken East Side places, but now he's a Lindy's man—and when he drops in to tear a herring with the Broadway lads, he creates as much excitement as if he were the King of England. The waiters on that side of the tracks just can't get used to serving pickles to a Vanderbilt.

* * *

Barbara Stanwyck is one Hollywood star who never has that "made up" look. Usually her nose is shiny and she doesn't care. . . . Maria Kramer, the lady hotel owner (she discovered Artie Shaw and put him in the Lincoln) often surprises musicians with her knowledge of swing, because they don't know she was once a girl trombone player in Arizona. . . .

Ten years ago Frances Williams was indisputably the Lilyan Tashman of the Broadway musical stage. No sleeker, more elegantly groomed fashion plate ever awed and ah-ah'd the first-nighters with fashions two years ahead of the date. Now she's strictly a sweater and skirt gal.

* * *

Debutante Barbara Smith walks home from Armando's to get exercise, but her car and chauffeur follow along slowly, just in case she should get tired. . . . Ben Bernie looks happier doing a conga than any man I've ever seen. . . . Van Wyck Mason, who writes blood and thunder prose, is a quiet fellow who sits in night clubs taking notes, like a reporter. . . .

Judy Garland's laugh is as pretty as her singing. . . . Pola Negri just can't help acting. She's never in the room to receive her guests—always makes an entrance, usually in flowing negligee, her face chalk-white. And she says every sentence as if Max Reinhardt had directed her.

* * *

Artie Shaw loves intelectual conversation. He'd rather huddle with Ernest Hemingway, Einstein, and G. B. Shaw than shoptalk jam with the boys at the Pick-A-Rib, and he'd rather write a best-selling novel than be No. 1 on the jukebox hit parade. . . .

Monte Proser, the Beachcomber host, used to be a railriding hobo, but now he's unhappy if his shorts aren't made of silk. He sleeps more out of bed than most people do in—dozes off in barber chairs, movies, and his own night-club!

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—There's been a lot of kidding because Fritz Lang, the ex-continental movie director, is shooting such a typically American subject as "The Return of Frank James." . . . The kidders forget that Lang, fresh from Europe, made a movie of American life for his first Hollywood picture—and "Fury" was one of the best vehicles Spencer Tracy ever had. . . . Lang rehearsed for his present effort by making an "American wild western" in Germany years ago—pretty sad, but based on his reading of Western history. . . . Since he came to Hollywood and became a citizen he has concentrated on the American West as a hobby—so the kidders may eat their words when they see the film. . . .

There is concentration at present, almost to the extent of a cycle, on the West's bad men as movie heroes: "The Dark Command," featuring Quantrell, the Kansas desperado; the Jameses (Jesse and Frank); and now the Dalton boys—not even mentioning that "Destry" and "Buck Benny" have ridden again, and that the Cisco Kid rides on. . . .

* * *

There's no fun in eating broken movie glass any more. . . . It used to be made of candy—now they're using resin. . . . When you see a bloodied-up actor on the screen, his gore is not make-up but wardrobe. . . . Ragnar Qvale, playing a concentration camp victim in "I Married a Nazi," was being larded with "blood" (collodion) while Burris Grimwood, the makeup man, stood by. . . . Grimwood says there has been a lot of argument over "jurisdiction" in blood matters, but since early movie days the wardrobers, who used to apply the make-up also, have held on to the task, justified by the argument that blood covers the player's clothes as well as his skin. . . .

Louise Beavers, the screen's foremost "mammy" until Hattie McDaniel came along, is losing no time getting back into the fray. . . . She's the smart maid in "No Time for Comedy," and when William Keighley feels playful all he has to say is, "Come on, Louise, give me that Hattie McDaniel look!" . . .

* * *

Just as one example of what movie producers are up against on "timely" subjects, there's the reissue of "Confessions of a Nazi Spy." . . . Deemed daring at its original release in April, 1939, the picture is more timely now than any on the screen, especially in view of the "fifth column" scare, and yet it, too, seems rather tame and dated by contrast with actual revelations of Nazi infiltration in Norway, Holland and Belgium. They have included newsreel shots from the later foreign horrors.

BODY FOUND

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Police theorized today that Mrs. Agnes Thieman, 65, mistook heavy scum on a settling tank for solid footing and was drowned attempting to cross the surface. Her body was found yesterday, three days after she was reported missing.
